IMF, PAKISTAN FAIL TO STRIKE DEAL ON BAILOUT PACKAGE

After 10 days of talks, discussions between the two sides remained inconclusive, with the Washington-based global lender saying that discussions will continue virtually in the coming days.

ISRO FORAYS INTO THE SMALL SATELLITE LAUNCH MARKET

SSLV D2 rocket on Friday successfully placed three payloads, including an earth observation satellite, into intended orbit

SUCCESS COMES AFTER FAILED MAIDEN MISSION

Isro's success in the small satellite launch vehicle segment comes months after its maiden mission failed. "We had a narrow miss of placing the satellite in the orbit because of the shortfall in velocity," Isro chairman S Somanath said of the failed mission (SSLV-D1) in August 2022. Buoyed by the latest success, the premier agency said the launch has set the tone for its activities this year

YEAR 2023 TO BE A BUSY ONE FOR ISRO

Hope floats for B'lurean missing in Turkiye quake

CHETAN MG @Bengaluru

THE family and friends of the lone Indian who went missing in the Turkiye earthquake hope he may have survived it. Vijay Kumar (36), a technician with Bengaluru-based Oxyplants India Pvt Ltd has been incommunicado since the February 6 pre-dawn quake that has already killed over 22,000 people in Turkyie and Syria so far.

The Indian embassy in Turkiye informed Oxyplants that rescuers have found his baggage, ID card, and some of his other belongings in the rubble of Hotel Avsar in Malatya in Turkiye where he was staying since January 25, the company's MD Ramesh Siddappa told this newspaper.

The hotel collapsed in the massive quake along with thousands of other structures. It is believed Kumar left the hotel before the earthquake struck. Rescue teams are now searching for him in hospitals.

Kumar, who hails from Dehradun, had voluntarily opted to go to Turkiye despite another technician being initially chosen by his firm for the installation and commissioning of an acetylene gas plant.

The company is in touch with the Indian Embassy in Ankara and keeping his family in the loop. Kumar's elder brother Arun Kumar told this newspaper over phone from Dehradun, "We suspect he left the hotel before it came down. Now, we are pinning our hopes that he will be found in one of the hospitals soon and will return to India."

OLD QUESTIONS, NEW ANSWERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THE second and final day of The New Indian Express's ThinkEdu Conclave 2023 lived up to the expectations with 15 engaging and informative sessions by eminent speakers.

The day began with a video message from Hardeep Singh Puri, union minister for housing and urban affairs and petroleum and natural gas. Puri said, "At the heart of India's relentless growth has been the key to leaving no one behind."

The buzz around university rankings too echoed in the conclave. M Jagadesh Kumar, chairman, University Grants Commission (UGC), said, "Global university rankings cannot be equated to university excellence. Regulatory excellence is also required to achieve more."

"Every citizen is entitled to basic education and healthcare," said Preetha Reddy, executive vice-chairperson of Apollo Hospitals Enterprise, in a conversation with Dr Sumanth C Raman, healthcare analyst and political commentator.

The session also brought forth the debate on introduction of medical courses in regional languages. Preetha Reddy said, "If you take a medical degree in France, you have to speak French. Many of our states are bigger than France. Then why not? But there is a portability issue that has to be thought through."

Addressing the youngsters in the audience, BJP MP Varun Gandhi said, "I have turned down a ministership twice. In the 15 years or so that I have been in Parliament, I have never made a single personal attack on any politician or party, because I think it is a glorious waste of time. In every tweet of mine and every statement of mine, I try to be of use to people and be part of something larger than myself. I was supposed to be the CM but I did not become CM," he said.

Among the youth who enlivened the session, there was also a young leader—MLA and president of Yuva Sena Aaditya Thackeray. "Environment will not bring me votes but just because of that we shouldn't stop working for it," the Thackeray scion said.

Gehlot faux pas as he reads last year's budget speech

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

RAJASTHAN Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Friday committed a huge faux pas during his budget presentation in the Assembly as he read last year's speech for seven-eight minutes, leading to ruckus and multiple adjournments of the House.

The mileage he was hoping to draw from an inflation relief package and a string of sops in the last budget of his tenure got lost in the mix-up. Rajasthan is expected to face Assembly elections by the end of the year.

The Assembly had to be adjourned twice for an hour before the actual budget could be presented. While the BJP claimed the budget had already been leaked, Gehlot later rejected the charge and attributed the mix-up to human error.

This was the first time in history that an old budget speech had been read out in any Assembly in the country. When Gehlot began by mentioning a couple of new schemes, including 125 days of employment under the Indira Gandhi Urban Employment Guarantee Scheme, both sides of the aisle realised it was part of last year's announcements.

While Government Chief Whip Mahesh Joshi went to the CM and alerted him, BJP members trooped to the Well of the House after the Leader and Deputy Leader of the Opposition pointed to the old speech while alleging that the budget was leaked and demanded Gehlot's apology.

When the proceedings resumed, Gehlot claimed, "I got an extra page by mistake. I misread it. Where did the question of leak?...I feel sorry for it." The CM later summoned Chief Secretary Usha Sharma and expressed displeasure over negligence of the officers who gave him the budget papers. A special probe has been launched over the mess.

Sebi probes FPO investors' links with Adani

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

THE stock market regulator is investigating if the anchor investors who participated in Adani Group's aborted ₹20,000 crore share sale have any links with the conglomerate.

"The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) is looking into the background of some anchor investors to check if they are related or connected with Adani Group," said a source, adding Sebi wants to know if there was a conflict of interest in the follow-on public offer (FPO) process. The regulator is also perusing the allegations of fraud levelled by US-based short seller Hindenburg Research, the source added.

According to Sebi rules, any entity which is related to the founder of a company that is coming out with an FPO is barred from applying under the anchor investor category.

Two Mauritius-based firms, Great International Tusker Fund and Ayushmat which participated in the FPO, are under the regulator's scanner. The former was allotted 2.47% or 4,51,772 shares for ₹148 crore while the latter was given 2.32% or 4,24,525 shares for ₹139 crore under the under the anchor portion of the FPO.

Sebi is also probing Elara Capital and Monarch Networth Capital, which Hindenburg alleged were engaging in "circuitous trading and manipulation of Adani Group stocks".

According to Hindenburg, an Adani firm had a small ownership stake in Monarch, which has previously worked as a bookrunner for the group, terming it 'an obvious conflict of interest'.

The Adani group has dismissed the charges as lies, saying it complies with all laws and disclosure requirements.

Ro-a-hit as hosts take initiative

SKIPPER SPARKLES

Rohit, who has been one of the best openers in this format over the last 18 months or so, set the tone for the hosts with a commanding display with the bat, including a pulled six off Pat Cummins. His century, amid a steady trickle of wickets at the other end, means the visitors never had control

JADEJA, THE BATTER, SHINES

One under-rated factor in India's dominating performances at home has been their lower-order resilience. It was once again on show as Ravindra Jadeja helped himself to yet another Test 50 (66 batting). The other left-arm spinner in the line-up, Axar Patel, is undefeated on 52

Russia may showcase Su-57 stealth fighter

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE
@Bengaluru

RUSSIA is likely to showcase its fifth-generation multi-role Sukhoi Su-57 Checkmate stealth fighter aircraft at Aero India 2023 to be held from February 13-17 at the Air Force Station Yelahanka in Bengaluru. This is in an apparent bid to solidify its defence cooperation with India, which has slackened in the past few years.

However, it is not clear if the Su-57 will be part of the flying display. An industry representative, on the condition of anonymity, told The New Indian Express that it most likely could be on static display, or further still a mock-up or scale model that would present visitors a glimpse into the stealth fighter's capabilities. But it may still attract a lot of attention.

The Su-57 was designed to replace Russia's ageing fleet of MiG-29s and Su-27s. It is also Russia's first stealth fighter, competing with the likes of the F-22 Raptor and F-35 Lightning from the West's arsenal. Featuring the Su-57 at Aero India will be significant since India is in the midst of bolstering its air defence capabilities through the purchase of new aircraft, especially for multi-role combat.

Rankings not marker of excellence, says UGC chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

UNIVERSITY Grants Commission (UGC) chairman Professor M Jagadesh Kumar stated that rankings are not a marker of excellence, and universities must instead work towards maximising their resources based on their goals and capabilities.

On Day 2 of the ThinkEdu Conclave on Friday, the chairman summed up UGC's policies to explain how they can create diverse institutions of excellence. He stressed the need for educational institutions to achieve scale even as they focus on achieving learning outcomes.

Exhorting institutes to embrace digital education Kumar said, "If higher education is on a mass scale, it will lead to enhanced aggregate learning in society, aggregate productivity, academic value, and increase per capita income and wealth. This in turn will create the possibility for massive investment in huge public funding for education," he said during a conversation with the vice chancellor of Sastra, S Vaidhyasubramaniam.

The chairman reflected on the role of regulators in shaping educational institutions. He critiqued the role of regulators in various sectors including education, such as the UGC itself, which hinder the process of reform in universities. "These bodies only regulate for the sake of it because the law empowers them. We need to do away with that mindset, and strike balance between humility and pride," he said adding that regulators should involve processes that are consultative in nature.

The discussion then segued into the proposed Higher Education Council of India that aims to integrate various higher education regulators such as the UGC and the AICTE under one body. The chairman cited the need to "clean up the houses" as regulators.

Responding to students' queries, he stated that the CUET made the admission process objective and inclusive. He refuted the criticism that the exam forces students to take coaching classes and said it was based on the Class 12 syllabus only.

'Can't ignore climate change even if it does not get votes'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

AS someone who has an impact on policy decisions, I cannot ignore climate change even if it doesn't get me votes, MLA and Yuva Sena president, Aaditya Thackeray said at the ThinkEdu Conclave in Chennai on Friday.

Speaking on the topic, 'Climate Change: Why We Need to Care', Thackeray said, "We often think that we are isolated from nature and are doing the planet a favour, that we are trying to save the planet. That's not so, we're trying to save ourselves."

Appreciating the TN government's initiatives to create urban forests and train elephant mahouts, he expressed concern that Maharastra is now lagging behind.

Explaining the cost of climate change, he said the Maharashtra government had to give farmers around ₹14,500 crore in 2020 during the pandemic due to damage caused by hailstorms, unseasonal rainfall and cloud bursts. "These incidents are increasing. The number of days of rainfall has reduced and the volume increased. In Mumbai, we would have about 120 days of rainfall. Now, it has come down to about 70, but the volume has increased to 200 mm per hour. No city can take beyond 50 mm," he said.

Modi's contribution to Hindutva zero: Swamy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi's contribution to Hindutva is zero, said economist and political leader Subramanian Swamy, claiming Modi had opposed the Ram Mandir till the very end.

Speaking during a session titled 'The Global High Table: Can India Be A Vishwaguru' at the ThinkEdu Conclave in Chennai on Friday, Swamy said, "He [Modi] opposed the Ram Mandir till the end. He got his friend S Gurumurthy to submit a petition at the SC while the trial was underway regarding the building of the Ram Temple. The PM wanted the land, allocated for building the temple, to be returned. The SC rejected the petition. During former PM Narasimha Rao's tenure the land was nationalised."

Stating he didn't have any personal differences with Modi, Swamy said he was against the PM's policies on China and economic policies.

On the concept of Vishwaguru, he said India can become a Vishwaguru only when it gives a military response to China on the border issues. He said intelligence is required to become a vishwaguru. He said, "Gurus, sadhus and sanyasis devised six different types of intelligence." The six types are cognitive, emotional, social, moral, spiritual and environmental.

Swamy said India was ahead of other countries centuries before they formulated modern technologies. "There was a manuscript I've seen called Vimana shastra. And I was surprised to see it. They are describing how to fly, build a plane, and what fuel they're suggesting. Mercury. So I asked a scientist if Mercury can be fuel for an airplane in the future? He said it's a long time in the future, but it is something that is being studied...you will find in all these other areas also, we will be able to attract the whole world and a large country like ours becoming a Vishwaguru is something that is very much within our reach."

'India needs to rethink medical edu to realise its vision to heal world'

"EVERY citizen is entitled to basic education and healthcare," said Preetha Reddy, executive vice-chairperson of Apollo Hospitals Enterprise.

Reddy was in a conversation with healthcare analyst and political commentator Dr Sumanth C Raman on the second day of the ThinkEdu conclave on Friday. Discussing the 'Cost of Healthcare: The Gap in Medical Education', she added India was in the right direction in terms of making healthcare accessible to future generations.

Reddy said, "India has an ambitious vision to heal the world". To realise this vision, she stressed there was a need to rethink medical education, which does not confine itself to the progress of doctors but the entire medical fraternity.

Preetha Reddy

Responding to Dr Raman's query on rising cost of medical education, Reddy said a regulatory system was needed. She said high cost of education couldn't be helped, but added, "We shouldn't charge so much that students are unable to access it."

The experts discussed the need to make a shift from the archaic norms of the past and move towards being smart about the technological advancements of the future. Dr Raman elaborated that skilling the medical students for the change was necessary.

The panelists stressed the need for establishing a higher number of nursing colleges. While they lauded the Centre's announcement in the recent budget to open 157 nursing institutes, the real need was beyond 1,570 institutes of nursing, the two admitted.

Addressing a question from the audience on the need to counsel medical aspirants at the school level, Dr Raman pointed out that senior professionals in the industry should handhold the young. "We have to understand what students want. Otherwise, we will have unhappy doctors."

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

ITIHASAS recount a happening as is and Puranas constitute history, yet these terms have been incorrectly used to simply mean story, Indic scholar Bibek Debroy said while speaking at ThinkEdu Conclave in Chennai on Friday.

Sharing the stage with historian Chitra Madhavan to discuss 'Bharat's Itihasa: Wisdom Beyond Time', Debroy said, "The Puranas have been reduced to a mere recounting of incidents. However, we do not realise that nearly a third of the Mahabharata is about Bhishma laying on a bed of arrows and imparting lessons on Dharma to Yudhishthira and his brothers."

Talking about scientific data in the Puranas, he listed some examples from sections of texts called Shulba Sutras that contain scientific and mathematical information. The solar sutras, for instance, illustrate the statement of a specific theorem while deducing the value of pi in relation to the dimensions of the earth. Significant information on other subjects such as geography, geology, grammar, the evolution of language, and governance can be found in the text named Pacham Veda, he said.

Asked a question about the difficulties of translating from Sanskrit to English, he said the two languages are structurally different hence, it is very challenging.

BRS leader K Kavitha on Friday said that the BJP would not be voted back to power in 2024. Speaking on 'Elections 2024: Who will win', at the 11th edition of the ThinkEdu Conclave,' the Telangana Legislative Council member said the BJP had failed to keep many promises and the people will make them pay for it.

In conversation with Santwana Bhattacharya, editor, TNIE, BJP MLA Vanathi Srinivasan said, "As far as 2024 is concerned, there is a clear message across the nation that Narendra Modi will take oath as the PM for a third time."

Gourav Vallabh, national spokesperson, INC, asked why PM Modi was silent on the Adani issue and said he hoped all Karyakartas wished Rahul to be the prime minister. Countering him, Vanathi Srinivasan said, "Karyakartas wish Rahul Gandhi to be the prime minister, but the truth is Rahul Gandhi does not wish to be the PM."

Vanathi added people now have electricity, gas connections, etc. "This is all due to the efforts of PM Modi."

Speaking about PM Kisan scheme, Kavitha said Modi had claimed the scheme will benefit 11.47 crore farmers, but now they are only giving it to 3.8 crore farmers.

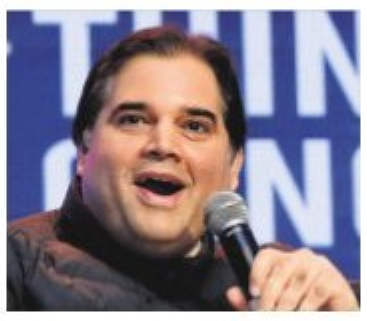
In the Lok Sabha, the PM said we are supplying water to eight crore people and in the Rajya Sabha, it was said water was being supplied to 11 crore people. Which is the correct number, she questioned. Kavitha also questioned why the government remained silent on the Adani issue.

TURNED DOWN MINISTERSHIP TWICE, SAYS VARUN GANDHI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

"I have turned down ministership twice, which most people don't know" said MP Varun Gandhi said during the ThinkEdu Conclave on Friday.

Asked if anyone took offence when he turned down the ministerial post, Gandhi said, "if you say things to someone in a respectful manner, if their respect is maintained, and if there is logic in your statements, people are big-hearted."



MP Varun Gandhi

Listing the four things he would do if he were education minister, Gandhi said, first he would change the curriculum and ramp up the number of teachers we have. Next, he would spend money on skilling people — 4% of the Indian workforce is skilled as opposed to 94% in South Korea. He would increase vocational education to do what they do in South Korea or Germany, "which is once you finish your education, you can take another three to five years to do vocational education, while working at companies that participate in the initiatives to scale up." He said all young people should know that 79% of all government jobs that have been created in the last five years have been contractual jobs. "Those are not real jobs, they don't have pensions, any social security benefits," he said.

"So, the bill I have introduced says in a time-bound manner, you identify vacancies, you have exams and in 45 to 60 days you give those people the jobs. I put this across, and I have dealt with certain ministers on this. They have promised to create new jobs," he said.

Reminding the audience that when he last attended the conclave he'd asked people to write to the PM against parliamentarians giving themselves pay hikes, he asked, "Why do parliamentarians have the right to allocate to themselves a salary increase at whim?"

Three touts were arrested. In an unprecedented step, the Lokayukta also set up a special counter inside the office to receive written complaints from the public.

The operation by six teams inside the BDA office began at 3 pm and is expected to continue till midnight.

K V Ashok, Superintendent of Police, Lokayukta, Bengaluru, who was supervising the raids, told TNIE, "We received complaints from public about numerous discrepancies in allotment of sites in various layouts. We also got to know of a scam which surfaced recently in which many BDA engineers sold off Civic Amenity sites in Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout. Hence, we wanted to get hold of documents pertaining to all of them."

The BDA head office resembled a fortress during the Lokayukta raid on Friday with employees, except some exceptions, not allowed to leave the premises | EXPRESS

The offices of the Town Planning Department, the secretary and the personal section of the commissioner were raided by our teams. "Three touts who were acting as middlemen between the public and BDA officials and were roaming inside the premises have been arrested. They will be produced before the civil court on Saturday," Ashok said. The Lokayukta was also checking if any documents pertaining to corner site slicing scam could be gathered, he added.

Many files were being taken by the Lokayukta team. The Class D staff were being sent across departments to collect documents or missing papers from files or to take photocopies. The bustling BDA office resembled a fortress with public barred from entering. "Only those members of the public who want to handover complaints to the Lokayukta desk set up inside to receive them are permitted," said the cops posted here. "Except data entry operators, no BDA employee was allowed to leave its premises. We are making an exception in the case of women employees and allowing them to leave after office hours," they added.

Many staffers were seen pleading with the cops at the exit gate to be allowed to go home stressing that they worked in the finance or other departments. However, the cops sent them inside stating that they had received orders not to allow anyone to leave when the raid was on.

Varsity forms panel to probe casteist skit

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

THE Jain (Deemed-to-be University) on Monday formed a disciplinary committee to look into the issue of a 'casteist' skit performed by a group of students at the Centre of Management Studies (CMS) on February 6. The university clarified that it does not encourage or entertain inequality and casteism in any form and hence the matter is being looked at closely to take strict action against the students who performed the skit.

In line with the University Grants Commission (UGC) guidelines, a disciplinary committee was formed to probe the matter and take strict action accordingly. The officials said that the parents of the students were also being called to discuss the matter.

The skit, performed by The Delroys Boys, ended up with casteist dialogues, even seemingly targeting the father of the Indian Constitution and champion of backward classes, Dr BR Ambedkar, besides using words like "untouchability" in the name of humour. The skit competition was about advertising imaginary products in a humorous manner at the event called Mad Ads.

Meanwhile, members of Dalit organisations approached the Siddapura police station and filed a complaint seeking action against the students and the management of the university. "As the skit was performed at Nimhans Convention Centre which falls under the jurisdiction of Siddapura police station, a complaint has been filed there. A decision will be taken on registering FIR after consulting senior officers," a police source said. After a video of the skit went viral, The Delroys Boys issued an apology on Instagram late Thursday night.

HC sets advocate free after apology

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday dropped criminal contempt proceedings against advocate KS Anil from the city, who was taken into judicial custody on February 2, 2023 for one week for committing contempt of court by making baseless allegations against sitting judges as he tendered an apology.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi dropped the proceedings and released him from judicial custody as he filed an affidavit tendering an apology when he was produced before the court. Though he tendered the apology regarding various contempt cases before the high court, the division bench accepted the apology insofar as cases pending before it.

Anil stated in his affidavit that he is a junior advocate from a trial court and suffering from body pain, mental stress, and other ailments. He said that his English is poor and has no guidance from senior advocates while practising at the high court. For this, he tendered his apology to jail authorities on February 7, 2023, Anil pleaded in the affidavit.

The court passed the order on February 2, 2023, sending Anil to judicial custody in criminal contempt proceedings initiated against him in 2019 as he avoided the query of the court and started behaving arrogantly. "Despite our attempts to hear him patiently, the accused started making gestures in court. Hence, he was taken into judicial custody," the court said.

The court initiated contempt proceedings against Anil, saying the allegations made by him against the four sitting judges of the high court prima facie tended to scandalise the court.

'CITY DOESN'T NEED FLYOVERS'

INVEST MORE IN PUBLIC TRANSPORT, TOILETS: ACTIVISTS

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

Ahead of the elections, the Basavaraj Bommai-led BJP government is expected to announce many infrastructural and developmental projects in the upcoming budget and a lion's share is expected to be pumped into Bengaluru. One of the major suggestions for the budget by experts and citizen activists is to not allot money for flyovers, underpasses and white topping works, but instead invest the same in improving public transport. They batted for the improvement of lakes, footpaths, cycle lanes, construction of toilets, parks and playgrounds.

Citizen activist Srinivas Alavilli said that the biggest thing the state government can do for Bengaluru is to empower the city corporation with funds, functions and functionaries.

"Bengaluru is dependent on Cauvery water, which is pumped to the city from 100 km away. The cost of pumping the water to the city runs in hundreds of crores. Instead, all our lakes should be revived on a mission mode and 243 new mini lakes must be built," he said. He said he is expecting announcements in the budget to stop the flooding episodes in Bengaluru, and added that stormwater drains be reclaimed.

Bengaluru Metropolitan Land Transport Authority needs to become fully operational this year, with competent staff delivering on the mandate of sustainable and integrated public transport plus non-motorable transport, he said, and suggested that in order to make Bengaluru breathe better, other cities should be made attractive to employers by giving a major push to 'Beyond Bengaluru'.

Activist Vinay Sreenivasa said that he is expecting the budget to have allocations to improve street vending by setting up godowns to store goods, which are otherwise stolen during the night. He said that the budget should provide two lakh vendors with toilets and drinking water facilities. "There are more than 1,000 bus stops in the city, without bus shelters. Bengaluru needs more playgrounds and parks. I expect the budget to deliver these," he said.

RUN-UP TO BUDGET 2023-24

Urging the government to avoid allocating funds for any flyover/underpass and white topping work, Ashish Verma, mobility expert from the Indian Institute of Science insisted that the budget should announce measures to disincentive personal vehicle ownership and usage. "Speedy construction of a spider-web-like dense Mass Rapid Transport System network (suburban trains and metro) in Bengaluru needs allocation, along with subsidised BMTC travel. Both these allocations will make a good impact on shifting mode share towards public transport. An equally good share of the transport budget should go to the quality of footpaths and cycle lane infrastructure." Ashish said.

To curb fake affiliation, school details to be published online

BENGALURU: With several cases of fake affiliation being reported in city schools, the Education Department has informed that it is making efforts to make information more easily available to the public.Public Instruction Commissioner R Vishal said the department will approach the government on the issue. "Currently, we are shortlisting schools that are not affiliated to other boards, apart from the state board, and are gathering their details. Following this, we will be approaching the government to seek their permission in publishing the details of the schools on our website for access to the public." Hundreds of schools have been served notices over the last few months for teaching unapproved syllabus at their schoolsw. The commissioner said that the issue had been ongoing and every month the department has been sending notices to the schools to rectify the issues or shut down. "There are two types of schools - unregistered and registered - which are teaching unapproved syllabus. Unregistered schools must be shut down, while registered schools teaching unapproved syllabus must rectify the issue or have action taken against them," he said. Currently, details of schools coming under the SSLC Board are published on the SSLC website. The commissioner said that similarly the department is seeking permission to publish the details of schools that are not affiliated to other boards on their website to ensure transparency for parents.

11th February : A powerful Moon adds spice to the day's proceedings. Above all, this is a day for action, and people who prefer to sit around and talk, and do tomorrow the things which should be done today, will be out of favour. If you feel lazy, don't worry. Keep your head down for a few days and your time will come.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Monetary matters are again highlighted, which could mean that this is a fine day for a spot of uncontrollable extravagance! On a deeper psychological level you are driven by a need to feel appreciated and valued. Honestly, you probably deserve a little extra attention.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon enables you to act with sensitivity and compassion, and this really is a case of least said, soonest mended. You may turn your attention to friends and loved ones who need your support, not a ticking off. Respect authority by all means, but don't be cowed by it.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Discretion may be the better part of valour, at least for another twenty-four hours. At home you are likely to be in a crusading mood and, if aroused, you will fight other people's battles as if they were your own. Watch out that you don't shoulder too much responsibility, though.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You may well feel that relations, friends and even business associates have been unreasonable, not to say unkind. However, over the next week or so, you will begin to see how you can gain the upper hand, especially in cash matters. If you do get an advantage, use it wisely.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your confidence is set to rise - a process which you can aid. If you abandon lingering pride, you will begin to realise that nobody has genuinely offended or slighted you. Perhaps you should give a partner the benefit of the doubt. You know it makes sense!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Even current battles over matters of principle should do little to dent your interests. In affairs of the heart, you should concentrate on friendship rather than intensity and passion. If you're in an extravagant mood, you may now spend on pleasure rather than necessities.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's an imaginative moment, and artistic and creative types should redouble their efforts. This includes all of you to some extent, for what is common to your sign is an ability to perform every task with original and expressive flare. What's more, your valuable experience is also coming into play now.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It is perhaps too much to expect partners to compromise. But, then, why should they? You may have a very good instinct for what is right in general, but others have a much more appropriate notion of what is best in particular circumstances. Listen well, for you might hear something of value!

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It's a day for work. This doesn't necessarily mean that you'll be tied to routine chores, but it does indicate that the most appropriate leisure activities will be those that keep you active - and involve new skills. In fact, you might find that a private interest could bring financial profit.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Give a priority to pleasure today. It's definitely a moment to get out and about and all sporting and competitive types are favoured. You could well be ready for a quiet evening, or, if you're going out, some sort of serious entertainment. Old-fashioned pleasures could be most attractive.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Encouraging planetary aspects relate to money and to family affairs. If any sort of domestic spending is on the cards, even if you're in the housing market, the indications are exceedingly positive indeed. The best relationships are based around shared activities rather than raw passion.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There's a sort of growing exuberance today, perhaps a sense of anticipation. You may hear long-awaited personal news but, if it doesn't arrive, you should take the initiative. Your emotions continue to benefit from smooth Venusian influences and mature Saturnine instincts.

Governor claims state finances are sound, govt schemes revolutionary

Opposition parties protest as governor reads out address to joint session in Hindi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

GOVERNOR Thawaarchand Gehlot, addressing a joint session of the legislature here on Friday, claimed that the state's financial situation is sound with the revenue collection at 91 per cent and budget estimate spending at 75 per cent by January 2023.

As against the targeted revenue collection of Rs 1,31,883 crore from own resources, Rs 1,20,013 crore (91 per cent) has been received and Rs 1,99,290 crore, or 75 per cent of the Rs 2,65,720 crore budget, has been spent, he said.

The governor's address marked the beginning of the budget session, which is likely to conclude on or before February 24. "The state's own tax revenue has increased by 21 per cent for January 2023 as compared to last year. The capital expenditure for January 2023 is Rs 33,991 crore, while last year it was Rs 26,915 crore. My government has spent 75 per cent of the budget which compared to the last few years is found to be higher," he said.

The transport department has collected Rs 7,749.96 crore revenue by January-end as against the target of Rs 8,000 crore, he added.

He described the hike in quota for SC/STs by 6 per cent as historic. Karnataka being the first state to implement the National Education Policy will bring in radical changes in higher education. The decision to regularise services of 11,333 pourakarmikas was revolutionary, he added. As he delivered the address in Hindi, opposition leaders, including Congress MLA HK Patil, protested. Replying, the governor said that he had not been informed. JDS MLA Dr K Annadani expressed his ire by wearing a shawl with Kannada colours.

He said the state has risen to the fourth position in the SGD India Index 2020-21. The number of industries in the state has increased from 28.81 lakh in the 6th economic census to 45.02 lakh in the 7th, which is a 56.88 per cent increase, he added.

Karnataka's contribution to merchandise exports was $25.87 billion, making it one of the top four states in the country. The state has been a pioneer in addressing mental health issues through e-Manas, which was recognised for best practice at the "Swasthya Chintan Shivir" held in May 2022 in Gujarat, he said.

Ravi Kumar flays Siddu for giving session a miss

Kalaburagi: BJP state General Secretary N Ravi Kumar took Congress leader Siddaramaiah to task for skipping the inaugural of the budget session, saying this shows how the opposition leader respects the legislative exercise. Ravi Kumar told reporters on Friday that Siddaramaiah was busy attending the Praja Dhwani Yatra in Yadgir and Kalaburagi districts, but his rallies have failed as not even half of the venues are filled. On Siddaramaiah's allegations against the government during the campaign, he said everybody knows that the Congress leader is an "empty vessel that makes a lot of noise". "In every meeting, Siddaramaiah says he introduced the Anna Bhagya scheme. But he does not say that the rice for the scheme is supplied by the Union government." ENS

GRAND WELCOME

BJP cadres have high hopes from Shah's visit to DK

VINCENT D'SOUZA @Mangaluru

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to Dakshina Kannada on Saturday is set to boost the confidence of the BJP rank and file ahead of the crucial 2023 Assembly election, which is just a few months away.

Shah's roadshow planned in Mangaluru has been cancelled due to security reasons in view of a 'Bhoota Kola' taking place at a venue nearby. But party workers have organised a grand reception for him in Kenjar near Mangaluru Airport in which over 10,000 people are expected to turn up. Shah will address the party workers there.

Later, the master strategist, instrumental in scripting the saffron party's victory in many elections, will chair the core committee meeting of BJP's Mangaluru and Shivamogga divisions at Shree Devi College in Kenjar, Mangaluru, where he will oversee the party's election preparations. He is expected to give tips that will be useful in improving the party's prospects in the election.

Party sources said Shah is expected to send out a strong message to party's workers, asking them to bury their differences and work unitedly for the party's success as some leaders are openly expressing their MLA ambitions.

Senior party leader Ayanuru Manjunath has said he is willing to replace KS Eshwarappa in the Shivamogga constituency, while a social media campaign is under way to replace sitting Puttur MLA Sanjeeva Matandoor with Hindutva leader Arunkumar Puttila. In Puttur, followers of Matandoor and Puttila are in a competition to put up posters ahead of Shah's visit.

The party has to tread carefully here, as a section of BJP workers is apparently upset with the party leadership after the murder of party worker Praveen Nettaru.

A senior party leader said Mangaluru and Shivamogga are BJP bastions and the party cannot afford to lose any seat here. Instead, it is hoping to improve its tally as opposition parties are trying to emerge stronger elsewhere, especially in the Old Mysuru Region.

M Sudarshan, Dakshina Kannada district BJP president, said the party has high expectations from Shah's visit. "It will definitely inspire the party cadre and boost their confidence," he said.

Shah's itinerary

Shah will arrive at Ishwaramangala in Puttur taluk for a temple visit at 2.50 pm. At 3.40 pm, he will take part in the golden jubilee celebrations of Campco factory in Puttur.

At 6 pm, he will arrive for a grand reception at Kenjar near Mangaluru after which he will take part in the BJP core committee meeting at Shree Devi College. He will leave from Mangaluru Airport at 8.20 pm. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel will accompany Shah.

B'luru-Mysuru road toll will be ₹800: Congress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) spokesperson M Lakshman said commuters planning to drive their vehicles through the 10-lane Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway, which will open by March-end, will have to shell out Rs 800 just in toll.

Speaking to reporters on Friday, Lakshman said, "The 118-km road will reduce the travel time to 90 minutes between Mysuru and Bengaluru. Two toll plazas -- at Ganaguru near K Shettihalli and another near Kumbalagodu -- have been set up on elevated stretches. The average fee is Rs 3 to Rs 4 per km. So, travellers will have to pay Rs 380 to Rs 400 as toll one way, totalling Rs 800 on a to-and-fro journey," he said.

As the project cost was shared by the state and central governments, MP Pratap Simha, who always questions the guts of Congress leaders, must display his guts and make the Expressway toll free," he said. He added that the Expressway was sanctioned by the UPA-2 government in May 2013 and the credit must go to former CM Siddaramaiah, former PWD minister HC Mahadevappa and central minister Oscar Fernandes.

Govt staff assn submits report to 7th pay commission

Bengaluru: The Karnataka State Government Employees' Association on Friday submitted a report to the State 7th Pay Commission on the revision of their salaries and allowances. The report also included suggestions that the employees should get salaries and allowances on par with central government employees and should have at least three to four promotion opportunities during their service. The government had set up the commission chaired by retired chief secretary Sudhakar Rao, which issued questionnaires to the association on January 17, 2023 inviting replies, views and suggestions. A delegation, led by association president CS Shadakshari, submitted the 65-page report. The association also suggested what was not sought in the questionnaires, including filling up of 2,50,363 vacant posts, incentives and education allowance for their children.

Nothing new in guv's address, slams Opposition

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Opposition Congress has slammed the state government over Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot's address to the joint sitting of the state legislature on Friday. Opposition Leader in the Assembly Siddaramaiah and State Congress president DK Shivakumar said the governor has not spoken about taking measures to fight corruption, which is a major issue in the state.

Corruption is the biggest threat to the state, but there is not even a word in the governor's address about measures taken to end it, said Siddaramaiah. The Congress leader abstained from the session on Friday as he was busy with the party's yatra in the North Karnataka region.

He said the state government is not giving importance to major problems like corruption, unemployment, price rise, agriculture crisis and problems faced by weavers and small-scale industries. The governor's speech was about the state government's achievements in the last year, but the government has not done any work, he said. "In the 82-paragraph speech, the governor has not spoken a word about addressing the problems," he said.

Though water is available in abundance in North Karnataka, the government has failed to provide adequate irrigation facilities in Koppal, Yadgir, Ballari and other districts, he said. North Karnataka is backward in many aspects, but the governor's address has no mention of a comprehensive development plan for the region, he said.

The former CM said Bengaluru contributes around 70% to the state's revenue, but there is no clarity on the government's plans to develop the city, and Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA) layouts mentioned in the governor's speech were developed during the Congress government, he said. Many of the programmes mentioned in the governor's address were started during the Congress government, he added.

Shivakumar said the governor's speech is a "bundle of lies" and the BJP government is taking credit for the Congress government's works.

HC stays probe against DKS in disproportionate assets case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a relief to Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee president DK Shivakumar, the Karnataka High Court on Friday stayed the investigation by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) in a corruption case registered against him for allegedly possessing disproportionate assets of Rs 74.93 crore to his known sources of income during the period between 2013 and 2018.

Justice K Natarajan passed the interim order staying the investigation till February 24, 2023, and directed the investigation officer to submit the report on the status of the investigation. This was after the counsel of Shivakumar argued that the investigating agency has been summoning the former minister and his family members again and again for questioning.

Special Public Prosecutor P Prasanna Kumar brought to the notice of the court that no notice was issued to Shivakumar or his family members. However, the notice was issued recently to the principal of the college, which is managed by Shivakumar's family members, for questioning.

Meanwhile, Shivakumar said, "I have full faith in the judicial system. I will have to get the details from lawyers about the court order. The ED has directed me to appear before them on February 22 in the National Herald case."

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday said a campaign will be taken up in all districts to ensure that government projects reach all beneficiaries. Ashoka relieved of Mandya dist min

Bengaluru: Facing opposition within the party, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai relieved Revenue Minister R Ashoka as Mandya district in-charge minister. Speaking to reporters on Friday, the CM said Ashoka has requested that he should be relieved from the post since he has to focus on other works. Ashoka was appointed as Mandya in-charge on January 26, and it was seen as part of BJP's efforts to strengthen its base in the JDS-Congress stronghold. However, the move faced pushback from local workers and "Go Back Ashoka" posters were put up in the district. Now, Bommai's decision is seen as an attempt to douse internal differences. ENS

ECOLOGY AND ECONOMY NOT AT ODDS, BUT INTERTWINED: PURI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

"ECOLOGY and economy are not at odds with each other, but in fact, fundamentally intertwined and India is demonstrating it. Our country is uniquely positioned to champion the aspirations of the global south," said Union Minister for Petroleum and Natural Gas Hardeep Singh Puri.

He was addressing participants of the First Environment and Climate Sustainability Working Group meeting held in Bengaluru on Friday through video conference as part of the G20 summit which India is spearheading.

Puri said this meeting provides an opportunity for the G20 nations to conceptualise and adopt a concrete roadmap based on the recommendation of the Conference of Parties (COP)-27 and the Biodiversity Conference held in Montreal this year.

Mentioning that the consequences of degrading biodiversity and the environment are leading to increasing costs and complexity in all aspects of life, Puri said, "Tackling the interrelated matters of climate change and biodiversity loss demands a concerted and calibrated global effort. This will require committed and farsighted leadership by the G20 nations which collectively account for 85 per cent of the world's GDP, 75 per cent of the global trade, and two-thirds of the global population."

The global south, in particular, looks up to the G-20 dialogue and desires an urgent consensus that prevents both a climate crisis and a debt crisis for developing nations, he said.

He said in the last eight years, the government has taken many transformative steps in advocating for 'climate justice' and added that the Working Group will enable a shift in mindset from ownership to stewardship of natural resources. He expressed confidence that the collective experiences and the lessons learnt during the deliberations in the Working Group meeting will help build a bold, visionary roadmap that can be shared with the G20 leaders.

In the beginning, Puri expressed solidarity with the people of Turkiye and said India commiserates the country loss. India will continue to extend all possible humanitarian and medical support in this time of need, he added.

In ISRO's SSLV, India gets robust launch vehicle

Launches 2nd developmental flight, placing three payloads in orbit

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA
@ Sriharikota

TENSE moments at the mission control centre at ISRO's Satish Dhawan Space Centre here on Friday gave way for relief when the space agency successfully launched the second developmental flight of the Small Satellite Launch Vehicle (SSLV-D2) and placed three payloads, including an earth observation satellite, in the precise orbit.

After its first developmental flight launched in August last year failed to place the satellites correctly due to an anomaly, ISRO Chairman S Somanath, on confirmation of Friday's mission being a success, congratulated the entire space community and announced that the country now has a new launch vehicle in SSLV-D2.

"SSLV D2 has placed the EOS-07 satellite in the intended orbit very accurately. Along with EOS-07 two other satellites were placed in the required orbit. Orbit landing achieved by the vehicle using its novel, very cost-effective and innovative guidance navigation system is exceedingly good," he said.

"We were targeting to put it in a 450 km orbit. We have very close apogee and perigee. This shows that the new model of vehicle navigation system and electronics that we have incorporated in SSLV is doing very well," Somanath, who is also secretary of the Department of Space, added.

According to ISRO, SSLV is capable of launching mini-, micro- and nano- satellites in the 10-500 kg segment into the 500 km planar orbit. It caters to the launch of satellites to Low Earth Orbits (LEO) on "launch-on-demand" basis. It provides low-cost access to space, offers low turnaround time and flexibility in accommodating multiple satellites, and demands minimal launch infrastructure.

On the failed maiden flight, SSLV-D1, Somanath said ISRO suffered a narrow miss of placing the satellite in the orbit because of a shortfall in velocity. "I am very happy to report that we analysed the problems we faced in D1, identified corrective action, applied (them) at a fast pace, qualified all of those new systems, went through a lot of simulations and studies to ensure that the vehicle will become a success this time," he further said.

Mission Director SS Vinod termed it a momentous occasion. "It all started in 2018 and the rocket has reached the intended destination today (Friday). With this launch, ISRO has accomplished the objective laid out for SSLV i.e. to have a low-cost, low turnaround time satellite which can offer launch on demand."

Sam Dayala Dev, the director of ISRO's Inertial Systems Unit, said the team had integrated, tested and declared the rocket fit for launch in just 36 hours. "In the navigation area, we used one of the low cost sensors but yet it came out with the best performance."

WHAT NEXT?

Somanath said the space agency was gearing up for a commercial satellite launch with its Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle (PSLV) by the end of March. Further, the launch of 36 satellites of the UK-based OneWeb using GSLV Mk-3 rocket around the same time, an unmanned mission, and the launch of NISAR, a joint project of India and the US, among others, are in the offing, he revealed.

Haliyal tense after stir over pavement around temple

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @Haliyal

HALIYAL witnessed a flash protest followed by the imposition of Section 144 as a safety measure, when hundreds of people took to street demanding to stop construction of a pavement around a temple belonging to Haliyal village deity – Gramya Devi.

Thousands of devotees thronged the temple in the town where the municipality authorities have planned to construct pavements around the temple. They all assembled in the temple, prayed to the Goddess and took to streets raising slogans against the municipality authorities.

They went out in a procession demanding that the pavement they have put should be removed and the encroachment around the temple should be cleared. "We have been worshipping here for centuries. The Banni Tree here is a sacred one for us during the Vijayadashmi. They are trying to clear it based on instigation by some people," said Mangesh Deshpande, president of the Gramya Devi Temple Trust.

The protesters then brought in earth movers and removed the pavement. A verbal duel ensued when the police intervened and tried to argue with the agitators. BJP leader and former MLA Sunil Hegde, who arrived at the spot, gave a dressing down to the officials questioning them on whose authority they had taken the decision. "Would you have done the same if the place of worship belonged to some other religion," he asked?

The agitators removed the pavement and fixed a saffron flag warning the authorities not to remove it. "I have told officials that the encroachment should be cleared and our temple land should be returned," he said.

Uttara Kannada SP N Vishnuvardhan said the agitators had suddenly decided to protest. "We had made our preparations and there was no untoward incident," he told TNIE, and adding that two units of DAR and local police were pressed into service.

AIADMK needs no help to be strong: EPS

ENS @Tirunelveli

OPPOSITION leader in the Tamil Nadu Assembly and AIADMK interim general secretary Edappadi K Palaniswami said the AIADMK does not need help from any political party to become strong while there is a perception that the BJP is trying to unite different factions of the opposition party.

Palaniswami visited Tirunelveli to attend different family functions of his party functionaries on Friday. When asked if any other political party has helped the AIADMK maintain its unity, he said the AIADMK has helped many parties and that it doesn't need external help to straighten things within the party. In fact, it is the AIADMK that has been holding up many parties, he added.

Responding to a question on whether the AIADMK-BJP alliance will continue during the General Election, Palaniswami said it shall be formed based on the situation at that time. "The BJP is still with us, and our alliance will continue. On the other hand, DMK sees growth, while the growth of its allies - Communist and Congress parties - is fading due to their ineffective protests against issues, including the hike of property tax. These parties, which have become slaves to the DMK, will gradually disappear," he said.

Talking about the by-election of Erode East constituency, Palaniswami said his party would win there. "Our victory will reflect in the Parliamentary election too. The people are angry with the DMK government, which failed to implement major welfare schemes for the public over the past 21 months," he added.

Wakf board urged to address public grievances

ENS @ Vijayapura

CHAIRMAN of Karnataka State Minorities Commission Abdul Azeem has called upon all the Wakf Board members to convene meetings every week to take public grievances and find solutions to them. Similarly, some of the people submitted a memorandum alleging the misuse of wakf properties. With regard to the lack of teachers in urdu schools, Azeem directed the Education Department to take appropriate steps to address the issues. He also directed them to repair the school classrooms on priority. With regard to construction of a separate hostel for the Jain community, he said that a proposal in this regard has been submitted to the government.

On the demand of setting up a separate office for maintenance of ancient monuments of the city, coming under ASI, he said a letter would be written to the central government to take action on it. Earlier, chairing a meeting at the DC office on PM's 15-point programme for the development of minorities, Azeem directed the officials to ensure the effective implementation of the programmes.

OPERATION DOST WINNING HEARTS IN QUAKE-RAVAGED TURKIYE

Two images of Indian personnel deployed in earthquake-hit Turkiye were heartwarming on a day when the body count was otherwise grim, as the toll there and in neighbouring Syria has topped 22,000. A video of a stretchered six-year-old girl wrapped in a blanket with a rescuer carefully holding her neck after pulling the child out of a Turkiye rubble showed the professional skills and empathy of the Indian NDRF teams working there as part of Operation Dost. Every life saved is a victory against time and the elements. The survival window is rapidly closing in the region where rain and freezing temperatures have made rescue that much more difficult. The other photo was of a grateful local woman hugging and kissing a female Indian Army personnel at what appeared to be a field hospital that got operational in Turkiye. India has already sent loads of relief materials besides personnel, sniffer dogs and specialised equipment for the rescue efforts. It was a quick outreach to save lives in their hour of need without geopolitical considerations. Contrast it with Turkiye President Erdogan shooing off Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif hours before he was to board a flight to Ankara to offer his condolences, and the short shrift he got is stark. To put it in context, Erdogan has been raising Kashmir in the global fora for quite some time now at the behest of Pakistan, though his position was quite nuanced at the UN General Assembly last year. The softer tone was seen as the outcome of his one-on-one with Prime Minister Narendra Modi at the Samarkand Summit.

On a different note, earthquakes are a regular occurrence in that part of the world as the tectonic plates are seismically active. Yet, there is growing evidence that this was a man-made tragedy in Turkiye as quite a few multi-storeyed buildings that collapsed like pancakes were claimed to be quake-proof when sold to prospective home buyers. The heat is already on the housing sector regulators. No wonder Erdogan is grappling with popular anger at ground zero.

As for Syria, India has flown in relief supplies despite global sanctions, as curbs don't matter when the scale of the tragedy is colossal. The need of the hour is to reach food, water, shelter and medical aid for the thousands of survivors on both sides of the border to avert another gargantuan humanitarian crisis.

INDUSTRIAL CREDIT MUST RISE TO CAPEX OCCASION

After years of calm, bank credit growth is on a tear. Incremental credit disbursement is likely to touch an all-time high of ₹19 lakh crore, according to ICRA, while India Ratings pegs 17–18% growth this fiscal. The growth momentum is likely to go gangbuster next fiscal as well, notwithstanding concerns about rising interest rates and tight liquidity conditions, which are often known to dampen demand. Interestingly, a large part of this projected growth comes from the retail segment comprising households taking out loans for homes, cars and everyday purchases. On the other hand, industrial credit has been the missing link in the overall bank credit growth story. As misfortune would have it, bank lending to large borrowers, particularly infrastructure companies, may come under focus in the backdrop of the unfolding Adani Group-Hindenberg saga.

The reluctance of both bankers and large borrowers towards fresh credit is unmistakable. If lenders seem wary and conservative fresh from the scars of the recent toxic loans clean-up exercise, India Inc remains 'afraid' despite being reminded about its 'Hanuman-like strengths'. The two key sources of corporate credit demand, namely, growth in production capacities and working capital requirements, continue to follow an unidentifiable rhythm. And as the government has been insisting, we need to evolve as an 'investment-led' economy, but until capacity utilisation improves, it won't trigger new, large-scale investments. For now, though, the government's capital expenditure drive is making up for the slack in private investment, but the industrial credit cycle must leap to life in the coming quarters to goose the economy.

Banks have also been mindful of large borrowers, given their inherent need to diversify borrower profiles and dilute credit concentration. Some of the large loans ended up in a scrap heap, and following the series of regulations after 2015–16, the share of large borrowers has been declining. Their bad loans fell to 7.7% of total advances as of FY22, while the gross NPAs of all loans will likely touch 4.9% in FY23, down from a peak of over 9% just a few years ago. In other words, Indian banks are profitable, their asset quality has improved significantly, and their books are clean with no asset-liability mismatch. As they embark on the next credit cycle, the banking regulator must maintain its vigil to avoid mistakes of the past.

QUICK TAKE

GREEN RED ZONE EDUCATION

Two decades after Maoists killed her father, Bharti Bogami returned to her village near the Maharashtra-Chhattisgarh border with a doctor's degree to treat the poor. The Maoist Red Zone of India needs more such Bhartis. The zone faced an education drought for years as Maoists destroyed schools or police forces used them as temporary camps. Only in the last few years have schools begun to re-open, like in the worst-affected Sukma in Chhattisgarh since 2018. The government informed Parliament recently that the Maoists' geographical influence is contracting. That should immediately reflect in the form of prioritised re-opening of educational institutions.

Reservation is the single biggest worry for the BJP, with several communities making their displeasure known

KARNATAKA AND THE QUOTA CONUNDRUM

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The BJP government in Karnataka has been caught in a cleft stick over its reservation policy thanks to the pressure mounted by various communities for increase in their quota and the ruling dispensation's failure to address them to the satisfaction of the aggrieved groups. While the state government, led by Basavaraj Bommai, has on the one hand pacified the SC and STs by increasing their quota, on the other it has angered many of the powerful communities. Most vociferous of them are the Panchamasalis, a sub-sect of the powerful Lingayat community and the BJP's core support base. Also on the list of dissatisfied communities are the dominant community of Vokkaligas, and backward classes such as Kurubas, Idigas, Madivalas, etc., who are demanding a hike in their quota.

With elections barely three months away, Bommai and the BJP are under immense stress to positively address the demand of these castes—a Herculean task given the legal complications. It is nearly impossible that any decision would sail past legal scrutiny.

Reservation is the single biggest worry for the BJP, with several communities making their displeasure known for some time. Already seen to be on the backfoot on many issues of governance, the ruling saffron outfit has a huge task of winning back the support of many of the communities and some, like the Panchamasali Lingayats, have openly threatened to bring down the government if their demands are not met.

For now, the Bommai government has got some reprieve as the Karnataka High Court has given a stay to a cabinet decision approved on December 29 which modified its reservation policy. This, instead of assuaging the Panchamasalis, set off protests from the group, the largest block among the Lingayats. Panchamasalis, who hit the streets some two years ago demanding that they be included under Category 2A which carries 15% reservation for 101 backward communities, threatened to intensify their agitation as they held a protest in front of Bommai's house at Shiggaon in north Karnataka's Haveri district.

What is the reservation conundrum and what has the government done? The state government recently got into the task of restructuring the quota map in two stages. In the first, it increased the quota for SCs from 15% to 17% and STs from 3% to 7% thus taking the total reservation to 56%, beyond the Supreme Court stipulated ceiling of 50%. While the SCs had not sought any increase, the STs did—the bigger Valmiki community in the OBC group had demanded an increase in the quota. The SCs, had, in fact, demanded implementation of the Justice Sadashiva Commission report which suggested the re-classification of 101 SC communities into four categories. This has not been addressed by the government. The hike triggered a wave of demands from different castes, where most wanted an increase in their quota and some wanted a change in their category of reservation.

Any increase beyond the court ceiling needs Parliament's assent so that it is added to the 9th Schedule of the Constitution, taking it beyond judicial review. The state government does not seem to have taken any step in this regard or lobbied with the BJP government at the Centre. This, despite claiming day in and day out that the "double engine" government would be beneficial to the states.

Next, the government took up the difficult task of addressing the demand of the Panchamasalis and Vokkaligas. Last month, it created a new category for Vokkaligas—2C—by doing away with 3A while it placed the Veerashaiva-Lingayats under a new category, 2D, by removing 3B. Their quota remains as before—4% for Vokkaligas and 5% for Veerashaiva-Lingayats. The government said the quota for the Vokkaligas and Lingayats would be increased by taking out a portion of the EWS quota of 10% currently enjoyed by Brahmins and four other groups.

There is no mention of separate reservation for the Panchamasalis in the revised quota policy; the government also remained silent on their demand for inclusion under 2A. Panchamasalis have rejected the cabinet decision. Category 2A is for the backwards and already has 101 castes accounting for 15% quota as this also has political reservation. This means that if the government had acceded to the demand, Panchamasalis would have stood to gain hugely by getting hold of the post of president in local bodies across the state. The communities currently getting benefit of 2A have protested against the Panchamasali demand.

Panchamasalis, who are strong in north Karnataka, wield considerable influence in the region. There are around 75 seats out of 224 where Lingayants matter in the state electorally, which is why the BJP is worried about the impact of the Panchamasali agitation led by their seer Jaya Mrutyunjaya Swami of the Panchamasali Peetha. That both Bommai and his predecessor B S Yediyurappa are Lingayats is not proving to be helpful here. Lingayats, the biggest caste group, account for some 14% of the five-crore electorate of the state. Of the total 224 sitting MLAs, Lingayats comprise 53—of them, 35 are from the BJP, 15 are from the Congress and three from the JD(S). The visible anger among the Panchamasalis, coupled with the recent spat between minister Murugesh Nirani and party MLA Basanagouda Yatnal, not to speak of the perceived sidelining of former CMs Yediyurappa and Jagadish Shettar, also a Lingayat, are seen as indicators of cracks in the BJP citadel and may haunt the party in the polls.

The BJP's problem is no different when it comes to the demand of the other influential community of Vokkaligas, strong in south Karnataka including the Old Mysore area, where BJP is struggling to make inroads. Vokkaligas, to which JD(S) strongmen H D Deve Gowda-H D Kumaraswamy belong, are demanding an increase in their quota from 4% to 12% and inclusion of three of its sub-castes in the Central OBC list. BJP, is, of late, focusing more on Old Mysore region—Home Minister Amit Shah made a dash to the area a fortnight ago and held a meeting with state party leaders on how to improve its chances in the region.

Like these, several communities want their quota increased, an impossible task for the government to concede, something which may go against the BJP in the polls. Thus, every action of the government on the reservation—be it relating to any community—is likely to have an impact on the way voters belonging to those communities react on the day of polling.

ESMA-RBI STANDOFF OVER CLEARING HOUSE INSPECTION

KANDASWAMI SUBRAMANIAN

Served in the Ministry of Finance, GOI,
and retired as Joint Secretary

We have witnessed clashes between central banks over interest or exchange rates. There have been competitive policies to gain an advantage over rivals. We are now witness to a new kind of clash over monetary control. Surprisingly, it has come out in the open. Rather unusual among central banks.

It all started with a review by the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), the regulatory arm of the EU, of the eligibility of members to continue as a central counterparty clearing house (CCP). CCPs are the hub of the financial system, facilitating trading in all financial instruments such as equity, bonds, swaps, derivatives, etc. Regional authorities regulate CCPs. Due to globalisation, there has been a broad regulatory convergence though there are differences based on the legacy, size and depth of the market, etc.

In its letter dated October 31, 2022, ESMA said, "After conducting its assessment, ESMA established that not all of the cumulative conditions under EMIR for recognition of TC-CCPs are met." [EMIR is European Market Infrastructure Regulation and TC-CCPs is third country CCPs]. Reports suggested the rejection was due to no cooperation between ESMA and Indian regulators, viz., Reserve Bank of India (RBI), Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) and International Financial Services Centres Authority (IFSCA). The details of the de-recognition are given below along with the regulator: Clearing Corporation of India (supervised by RBI), Indian Clearing Corporation Limited (SEBI), NSE Clearing Limited (SEBI), Multi Commodity Exchange Clearing (SEBI), India International Clearing Corporation (IFSCA) and NSE IFC Clearing Corporation Ltd (IFSCA).

The seriousness of the de-recognition of CCPs cannot be underestimated. In a way, it cuts at the umbilical cord of Indo-EU economic relations and will hurt the interests of European banks like BNP Paribas, Société Générale, Deutsche Bank, etc. With the spread of globalisation and financial liberalisation, financial flows are several times more than trade flows. They move as derivatives, also fashionably described as OTC (Over-the-Counter) derivatives. Before the bankruptcy of Lehman Brothers in 2008, cross-border flows ran to trillions, and derivatives were the name of the game. Consultants devised complex derivatives and booked them with no assets of value or fraudulent values. The mayhem in the market led to the Global Financial Crisis (GFC). The estimated value of derivatives at the end of 2008 was $598 trillion! The abuse of derivatives than by mortgages created the crisis. The unprecedented magnitude of the GFC spurred global leaders to address global cooperation issues, and the G20 attached new urgency to banking reforms. In April 2009, G20 leaders agreed to re-launch the former Financial Stability Forum as the Financial Stability Board (FSB), to promote financial stability, expanded membership, stronger institutional basis and enhanced capacity.

It included central banks, including a few from developing countries like India. FSB had the mandate given by G20 in 2009 at Pittsburgh. G20 did devote attention to the derivatives segment. While the G20 recommended "coordination in standard derivatives", the FSB attempted a standardisation of derivatives. The FSB tends to lose over the roadblocks and offers a rosy view in its reports. A 2002 Working Paper of the IMF, Applying the Central Clearing Mandate: Different Options for Different Markets, concludes thus: "There can no one size fits-all approach—at best, crafting strategy/options for applying the central clearing mandate is at the crossroads of a series of objective drivers…." The paper suggests regional or multiple canters for clearance. The authors list legal, administrative and tax issues that militate against standardisation.

The seriousness of the de-recognition of CCPs cannot be underestimated. In a way, it cuts at the umbilical cord of Indo-EU economic relations and will hurt the interests of European banks

If these are the ground realities, why are developed countries in a hurry?

The FSB is biased in favour of big banks and the West. It would try to adopt the standards of the West. A study by Brookings on FSB commented that "in many respects, the FSB has inherited the governance of its previous incarnation." (The Governance of the Financial Stability Board, Brookings Institution, Washington D.C., 2011). The study recommended that with its expanded membership and increasing role, the FSB needs modernisation in its approaches—the way the FSB is subjecting developing countries to western norms regardless of regional benchmarks.

During talks with the RBI, ESMA was riding a high horse and was sceptical about the standards adopted by India and wanted auditing by its auditors. RBI could not agree. It felt that was interference with domestic autonomy and extraterritorial reach. Rabi Sankar, Deputy Governor, RBI, has expanded the concept of extraterritoriality admirably, which he explains, "A probably unintended consequence of the post-GFC drive towards de-risking OTC derivatives markets has been the tendency of developed economies to contain the risk of their entities by attempting to maintain control of regulation and risk management practices of third countries."

In such disputes or differences, the chiefs of Central Banks rarely intervene. However, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das chose to do it. He said that foreign regulators must respect the credibility of Indian rules. He released the Financial Stability Report on December 29 and said, "Such regulations, if implemented by jurisdictions, can create a parallel maze of laws with overlapping requirements or restrictions and show a lack of trust in the capabilities and quality of oversight exercised by the host regulators." This makes sense, as it would affect the quality of governance. It is not clear how the standoff will resolve. The RBI is said to be negotiating with ESMA. India is also a big market for the EU to lose. Alternative arrangements will be expensive, and Euro banks will become uncompetitive. In the end, ESMA will have to live with the status quo.

'Mixopathy' is dangerous

Apropos of No mixing medical courses (Feb 10). Mixing modern medicine and Ayurveda studies is illogical and unscientific. Each system has its own principles about the origin, classification and treatment of diseases. This 'Mixopathy' would in fact harm patients. Politics should not come in the way of patient care.

Cong, correction, confidence

Modi's fiery rhapsody in Parliament may smack of arrogance but asserts he is confident. Manmohan Singh never exuded such optimistic confidence even when he was doing an excellent job of resuscitating our economy from the brink of collapse. Lack of credible leadership puts the Congress in a political cul-de-sac. Will the Congress prove that it is an effective force to reckon with?

Polarising people

Sachin Pilot's demand that we should focus on real issues rather than communal/divisive issues is obviously acceptable for genuine reasons. Our political/religious panjandrums polarise people according to caste/religion/politics to remain in power, compromising the interests of the country.

Casual casteism

Apropos of Funny skit takes casteist turn at campus fest (Feb 10). Some people tried to defend the college by saying the act was satirical and that it didn't intend to hurt the sentiments of the people. The casual casteism presented in the name of humour makes the thought-process of this generation questionable.

Kharge ups ante, says govt conspiring to suppress JPC probe

Asks why PM and his govt do not allow even utterance of the word 'Adani' inside both Houses of Parliament

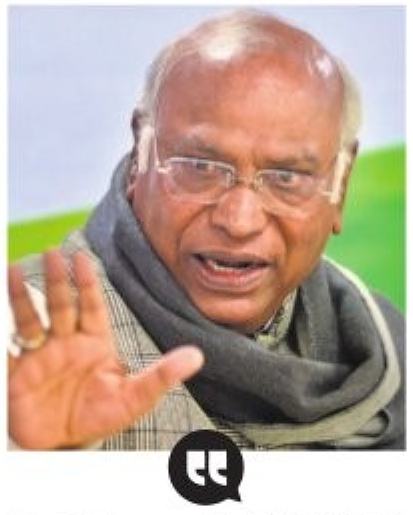
PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

A day after writing to Vice-President and Rajya Sabha chairman Jagdeep Dhankar over six of his remarks getting expunged, Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge on Friday said the Narendra Modi government is conspiring to hide the truth by exerting pressure on the presiding officers of both Houses of Parliament and to suppress the JPC inquiry.

Addressing the media at the AICC headquarters, Kharge said that his party would continue to raise the Adani issue both inside and outside Parliament. Earlier this week, during his speech in the Rajya Sabha on the Motion of Thanks on the President's address, Kharge had asked how Gautam Adani became the world's second richest person so quickly, and questioned his links with the government, and the PM's silence on the matter.

Alleging that the Adani issue was a "big scam" that involved public money and should be thoroughly investigated, Kharge on Friday posed 10 questions to the government. "What is the reason that Modiji and his entire government do not allow even utterance of the word 'Adani' in Parliament?" he asked.

Questioning the government on its silence on the Opposition's demand for a probe, he said, "What is the reason that RBI, SEBI, ED, corporate affairs ministry, income tax department and CBI have suffered paralysis in the name of investigation against Adani?"



What is the reason that RBI, SEBI, ED, corporate affairs ministry, income tax department and CBI have suffered paralysis in the name of investigation against Adani?

Mallikarjun Kharge, Congress chief

On the deletion of the comments from the speeches, the Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha said, "You can well imagine what is going on in the name of democracy." Kharge further said that though he held the posts of floor leader in Lok Sabha for five years and the leader and deputy leader in the Karnataka Assembly, he had never seen words like "washing machine" being expunged.

"By merely removing my remarks, allegations made by people and the media will not be cleared," he said. "The entire Opposition is together on the demand for a JPC probe into the Adani issue," he said.

When asked about the role of the Rajya Sabha chairman, Kharge said, "I don't want to say anything. You have seen it yourself. If I say something, they will say I am raising questions about the chairman. We want parliamentary democracy and that is why we are moving with sensitivity," he added.

Kharge also raised concerns over the exposure of LIC and SBI to the Adani Group. "Shouldn't questions be asked as to why the value of LIC and SBI shares fell by more than ₹1 lakh crore in the stock market?" he asked. "Shouldn't it be asked as to whom the thousands of crores of rupees pouring in from tax havens to Adani's companies belong?"

He also said that questions should be raised on why ₹82,000-crore loan was given to Adani by SBI and other banks. "Shouldn't questions be asked as to why ₹525 crore of LIC and SBI were invested in Adani FPO despite over 32% fall in Adani's shares?" he asked.

He also sought to know if the Modi government secured contracts for Adani in Sri Lanka and Bangladesh.

Cong MP Rajani Patil suspended from RS for recording proceedings

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

CONGRESS MP Rajani Ashokrao Patil was suspended from the Rajya Sabha for the remainder of the Budget session for videographing the proceedings of the House that found their way into the public domain. The disciplinary action was recommended by RS chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar after Patil posted a video on Twitter where Opposition MPs were seen protesting PM Modi's speech on Thursday.

"Rajani Patil engaged in this unwholesome activity and what has been seen is a matter that must engage our attention," Dhankhar said. He said the matter will be probed by the Privileges Committee.

The decision was taken in view of the transgression of the directions given by the chairman on July 28. 2022, which read, "It was brought to my notice that some members, in spite of clear instructions and warning, have tried to film the proceedings of the House and then give it to others. Such actions are totally prohibited. If anybody is found in possession of such things, he will be found guilty and action will be taken against him."

The order states that the RS chairman has followed the procedure of the suspension of Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann in 2016, who was an AAP MP then. Mann was suspended from the winter session after he was found guilty over the video-recording of the Parliament's security structure by a Parliamentary panel, headed by BJP Lok Sabha MP Kirit Somaiya.

Though the BJP members' demanded Patil's suspension, Congress members alleged that the coverage by Rajya Sabha TV of the debate in the House was 'partial' and asked the Chairman not to take any disciplinary action against her.

NO POLITICS: FM ON MINORITIES' FUNDS

As several MPs flagged the reduction in the Budget allocation for the Minority Affairs Ministry and the scrapping of scholarships, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitaraman on Friday said that the Centre does not believe in vote bank politics. "If individuals have eligibility, no matter their religion or background, they will receive scholarships," she said. Referring to the 1984 riots, she asked "was the budget allocation for minorities less then? If the budget allocation is less, does it mean we are hating any community?"

AYUSH PRODUCTS EXPORTED TO 20 NATIONS

The US, Germany, UAE, Italy and China are among the top five countries where India is exporting Ayush and herbal products, the Rajya Sabha was informed. In a written reply, Ayush Minister Sarbananda Sonowal said the total revenue generated from the export of Ayush and herbal products from 2017-18 to 2022-23, till February, is USD 2892.19 million. The growth rate of Ayush and herbal products export has been 34.20 per cent, he said.

The decision was taken to drop the existing requirements of pre-departure Covid-19 test and uploading of Air Suvidha form.

'ONUS ON PAK TO CREATE ROOM FOR TALKS'

India has reiterated its stand that the environment must be conducive for talks to be held between India and Pakistan. "India desires normal relations with Pakistan. India's consistent position is that issues, if any, should be resolved bilaterally and peacefully in an atmosphere free of terror and violence. The onus is on Pakistan to take credible and verifiable actions and not allow its territory to be used for cross-border terrorism against India," said MoS for External Affairs, V Muraleedharan.

Livestock budget up, but misses targets

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE thrust of the Union Budget 2023-24 has shifted to animal husbandry, dairying and fisheries from crop production. The budget of the Ministry of Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairying (MFAHD) has increased by around 10 per cent from last year's budget. Moreover, this allocation steeply increased by around 40 per cent compared to the previous year's revised estimates.

In 2019, Prime Minister Narendra Modi formed the MFAHD – a separate ministry – to give a fresh momentum to doubling the farm household income by 2022. It aroused interest among policymakers as livestock and fisheries sub-sectors contribute more significantly to agricultural GDP than crop production.

The Centre might miss the target of doubling farmers' income but not its focus on these two sub-sectors. The budget of these sectors has been consistently increasing over the past three years.

This year's budget allocation for the Department of Animal Husbandry and Dairying (DAHD) is ₹4,327 crore, which is 10 per cent more than last year's budget and 40 per cent more than the revised estimate of 2022-23.

Similarly, the budget allocation of the Department of Fisheries (DoF) is ₹2,248 crore, which is 9 per cent more than the previous year's budget and around 40 per cent more than the revised estimate.

In the DAHD budget, the major thrust was on the livestock health and disease control programme and dairy infrastructure development. Under these schemes, the allocation is ₹2,689 crore, whereas the last year's budget was ₹2,315 crore. A new scheme started, 'Dairying through Cooperatives', which will help create dairy infrastructure in backward regions of the country in cooperation with the Japan Cooperative Agency which will provide official development assistance (ODA) loan assistance. Meanwhile, experts see this budget as another lost opportunity.

"The government needs to focus on setting up animal health infrastructure in interior areas where poor people have only livestock to support their livelihood," says Vijay Sardana, an agricultural policy expert.

He also emphasised the need of insurance policies for poultry, piggery, and goat farming.

In DoF, the major thrust is given to reviving the fish processing sector, especially the shrimp sector. This sector has been deeply affected due to the Covid-19 pandemic. One of the significant lacunae the experts noticed was that the budget needs to discuss support to open fishing or inland fishing.

"The government should look beyond the shrimp industry to support inland fisheries which are supporting millions of livelihood and source of nutrition," says Neelkanth Mishra, founder of Centre for Aquatic Livelihood Jaljeevika.

Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav: 68% rise in budget allocation for culture ministry

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Centre made a threefold increase in the culture ministry's allocations for 'Centenary and Anniversary: Celebrations and Schemes' head, under which 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' (AKAM) programmes are being organised across states and abroad.

Special provision has been made again in this year's budget with about 68% rise in allocation for the 'Centenary and Anniversary: Celebrations and Schemes'. The Centre has made a provision of ₹185 crore to commemorate the centenaries or birth anniversaries of eminent persons including AKAM, flagship initiative of the Narendra Modi government.

In 2022-23 budget outlay, ₹110 crore were set aside for the AKAM, commemoration and celebration of 75 years of India's independence and other commemorative functions.

However, in the revised estimate, the allocation was increased to ₹353.82 crore in view of the anticipated expenditure for the events related to the diamond jubilee of the country's independence," said the ministry.

AKAM is being led by the ministry of culture and has been organising several events in association with other ministries and departments. The 75-week long celebration began in March with the Prime Minister Narendra Modi flagging off the Dandi March. The programme will continue till 15 August, 2023.

With the grand celebrations of 75 years of independence entering the next phase, the ministry will be holding a series of theme-based cultural events in association with schools, colleges, resident welfare associations (RWAs), non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and other institutions in districts across states.

The list of activists proposed under AKAM 2.0 are flash mobs, theatrical plays, contests, summits, conclaves, fests in colleges and schools and concerts at popular sites such as malls and metro stations.

The outlay for the ministry has also increased by about 13 per cent this year. It has been given ₹3,399.65 crore as against the outlay of ₹3,009.05 crore approved in 2022-2023.

Among various initiatives announced by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her budget speech, she said the Archaeological Survey of India, a body responsible protection and restoration of 3,693 heritage sites in India, would set up Bharat Shared Repository of Inscriptions (BharatSHRI), a digital epigraphy museum, in Hyderabad. It will digitise one lakh ancient inscriptions in the first stage, the minister said.

In the annual budget, the ASI was granted ₹1,102.83 crore.

Reflection of India's speed & scale: PM flags off Vande Bharat trains in Mumbai

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Mumbai

THE Vande Bharat train is a reflection of India's progress towards becoming an atma nirbhar (self-reliant) and developed nation, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Friday after flagging off for the first time two newly rolled out Vande Bharat trains from the same place on the same day. Speaking at the event at Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Terminus in Mumbai, Modi said India in 21st century needs faster and safer connectivity from one part of the country to another.

"India of 21st century will have to rapidly improve its public transport system. The Vande Bharat train reflects India's speed and scale, it will also boost connectivity," Modi said, adding that 108 districts in 17 states now have faster rail connectivity due to the Vande Bharat trains.

The PM flagged off India's ninth Vande Bharat train, which will run between Mumbai and Solapur, and the 10th train that will connect the state capital with Shirdinagar. The trains will run daily.

Speaking on the occasion, Modi said the BJP-led NDA government has given a huge budget of ₹13,500 crore to Maharashtra for development of the railways, while the previous government was neglecting railway infrastructure.

"But our government is committed to developing mass railway infrastructure in Maharashtra," he said, adding that the new service will give a boost to religious tourism and promote confluence of faith and progress.

"There was a time when MPs used to write letters for getting trains to stop for 1-2 minutes at stations in their areas. Now, they demand a Vande Bharat in their area," the PM said.

The Centre has planned to roll out 75 Vande Bharat trains by August 15 this year, while those remaining out of the total 400 trains announced would be out in the next few years.

Adani stocks: SC tells Sebi to take steps to protect investors' money

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

REMARKING that the total loss suffered by Indian investors in the wake of Adani Hindenburg issue was in the range of several lakh crore, the Supreme Court on Friday asked SEBI to come up with changes required within the regulatory framework to protect Indian investors from such instances.

A CJI-led bench said the stock market is a place where investment is made not only by high investors but the entire spectrum of the middle class. It said that the primary concern was protecting the investors against volatility.

"The point is that the total loss suffered by Indian investors was in the range of serval lakh crore. Do we have a robust mechanism in place? How do you ensure that Indian investors are protected? What role should we envisage for the SEBI?" asked CJI DY Chandrachud while dealing with pleas seeking a probe into the Hindenburg Research report on Adani firms.

The bench also suggested for constitution of a committee consisting of experts from financial sector for strengthening the existing financial mechanisms and for SEBI to conduct a "threadbare analysis" over the power that it has and the powers which can be given for dealing with such issues.

UP DRIVING GROWTH OF NEW INDIA, SAYS MODI

Inaugurates UP GIS-2023 in presence of industry captains, foreign diplomats and investors & also praises Yogi govt for all-round development

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

PM Narendra Modi inaugurates the three-day UP Global Investors Summit 2023, in Lucknow on Friday; also seen are Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, UP Governor Anandiben Patel and Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath | PTI

PLAYING host and welcoming the investors, industry captains, dignitaries and foreign delegates as an MP from the state at Global Investors Summit-2023, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday described Uttar Pradesh as the "engine driving growth of New India."

While inaugurating the three-day mega business event, the biggest ever to be organised in the state, Modi highlighted how UP, which was known to be a BIMARU state where scams were frequent and a feeling of "hopelessness" reigned, was now leading the growth of the country which, he said, was moving fast on the path of reforms.

"If India is the bright spot in the world, then UP is leading her growth. The country is reforming out of conviction and not compulsion," said the PM.

Modi attributed the role of UP as the growth engine of the country to the radical change and dynamism in the 'soch' (thought process) and "approach" of the ruling dispensation over the past 5-6 years.

"Earlier, the investment used to be considered 'waste' but now it is deemed to be 'the best.' This change in 'soch' and 'approach' has led the state to create a suitable atmosphere for ease of doing business," he said.

While addressing a gathering of over 5,000 guests, including investors at the business meet, the PM said UP had changed to such an extent in the last few years that now it had acquired the new identity "rightfully" of being a state known for "its good governance, improved law and order, peaceful atmosphere and political stability."

The PM said: "The massive infrastructure development in the recent past is driving growth of New India. From electricity to connectivity, there has been a holistic development in UP and the state is set to become soon the only state in the country with five international airports."

PM Modi also dwelt upon how India's growth story was changing. "Health, education, green growth, and social infrastructure are great opportunities for investors in India," he said.

Calling upon the investors to come to UP, the PM said that like whole of India, a huge aspirational society was waiting for them in Uttar Pradesh.

"The development in the field of social, physical and digital infrastructure in the country has benefitted UP to a great extent. This has led the society to integrate and be connected with social and financial developments. UP's textile, manufacturing, farming, logistics, digital clusters along with sectors like dairy, food processing and fisheries provide enormous opportunities to the investors to become a part of UP's growth story," said the PM.

Earlier, while welcoming the guests at the summit, UP CM Yogi Adityanath said the "excellent" law and order situation in the state led to the perceptible change in the approach of investors towards UP.

"It is well reflected in the fact that even ahead of the summit, we have received investment intents worth over Rs 32 lakh crore and signed over 18,000 MoUs," said the CM.

He said for the convenience of investors in the state, a single-window portal 'Nivesh Mitra' was providing 406 services of 33 departments, policies had been introduced for 25 different sectors and the state's exports doubled during the last five years. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, too, highlighted the various ventures introduced by the present government, saying that these put forward a new vision for the business community.

"Today, the business community is not only looked upon with respect and trust but also considered as significant contributors to the development of society as wealth creators," said Rajnath.

Speaking at the summit, Singh also launched a verbal attack on "pseudo-secularism," which not only prevented industrialists from moving forward but also hampered the established industries."

"Old, ineffective and redundant rules, which had become a 'red tape' for the industry in the past, have transformed into a 'red-carpet' in the present times," said Rajnath Singh.

Shah praises Yogi, says better law & order must for investment climate

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

EXUDING confidence that the three-day mega event of Global Investors Summit (GIS-2023), will change the destiny of UP, Union Home Minister Amit Shah claimed that UP had everything needed for the development of industries in any state. Addressing a session on MSME and cooperatives, Shah gave full marks to Yogi government for having courage and patience to make the state one of the most prominent investment destinations in the country.

He claimed that five factors including law and order, infrastructure, clear industrial and financial policies, transparent government functioning and quick decision making were crucial for drawing investment in any state. "With a drastic improvement in law and order, development of robust infrastructure, having formulated clear industrial and financial policies, not a single allegation against the dispensation besides it makes quick decisions to move forward, UP government has made striding achievements on all five counts which is reflecting in GIS-2023 on such a scale with such a success," said Shah adding that it was a very encouraging sign for the country.

The Home Minister said that there were a lot of opportunities for growth in UP. "The state can play an important role in making the country a USD 5 trillion economy. Numerous investors are making investments in UP after realising its potential."

In an apparent dig at previous governments, Amit Shah stated that before 2017, the state government used to organise an investors meet in Delhi for the reason, as per a minister of that government, investors would not be ready to come to Lucknow.

"If the investors were not ready to come to Lucknow, how would they invest in UP," asked the Home Minister in a lighter vein. Laying stress on the role of MSME sector plays in making a state industry rich, Shah said the MSME sector was the driving force behind India's growth story. "A number of big business and industrial houses of the day had started their journey as MSME," he said to substantiate his point. Shah also counted on the huge population and area of UP as the blessings which open enormous opportunities for the state to become crucial for country's growth. CM Yogi said that the state's MSME have the largest base in the country.

Need for healthy ecosystem

Claiming that the ongoing summit would change the destiny of UP, Shah said, "A state is also required to create a healthy ecosystem of employment for the MSMEs to flourish and for growth of industrial houses.

The golden era of UP has begun. Both 'udyog' and 'sahyog' are needed for the development of the state. Reliance will continue to work for UP 'jee jaan se' for it to become a $1 trillion economy for India.

Mukesh Ambani, Chairman, RIL

UP has gone through a metamorphosis in the last few years under the present dispensation and has made significant strides in terms of ease of doing business. It has the state to attract FDI worth USD 1.1 billion.

HP curbs officials from buying land at places of posting

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu-led Congress government in Himachal Pradesh will restore a 57-year-old order barring officers from purchasing land in their name or in the name of their family members at the place of their posting without the permission of the authorities.

The government issued a circular on February 8 to all heads of departments, divisional commissioners and deputy commissioners. It says: "After careful consideration, it has now been decided to rescind the instructions issued vide letter dated February 15, 2016, and to restore the instructions dated January 12, 1996, August 16, 1997 and September 26, 2012.''

The officers who are transferred out will also not be allowed to purchase land, building, and immovable property within the recent jurisdiction. The purchase deed will not be allowed to be registered in one's name or in the name of one's family member(s) within a period of two years from the date of relinquishing the charge of his/her post, said the order. It warned that any official found violating the orders "shall be dealt with strictly."

Sources said as per the instructions, there are 28 categories of officers – 21 of government officers and seven of municipal officers. On the civilian set-up, the order covers the divisional commissioner down to revenue staff in the rank of patwaris. In the police department, the order covers SPs and DSPs and in the forest department, from conservator of forests to forest rangers. Similar is the case with excise officers and engineers. Sources said since 1964, the officers' conduct rules were in place for all services. The rules were relaxed in 1996 and 2012.

On February 15, 2016 the then Virbhadra Singh-led Congress government modified instructions and lifted the ban. At that time, it was said that such officers can buy the land with prior permission of the government. However, the Sukhu government has withdrawn all relaxations and reinforced the bar on officials from buying property in their respective jurisdiction.

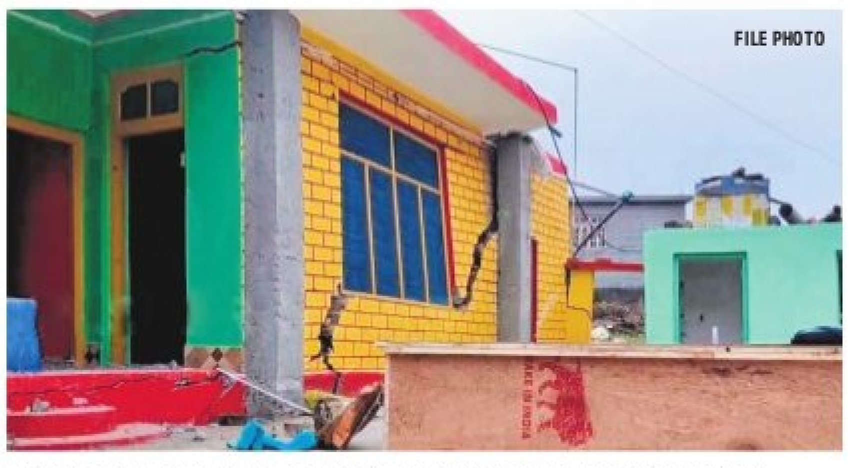
More cracks in damaged structures of J&K's Doda

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar



At least 21 concrete structures, including 19 houses, a mosque and a madrasa, developed cracks after land sinking in the Nai Basti village, Doda district of J&K.

THE cracks have further widened and disfigured the structures damaged by the land sinking in a village in mountainous Doda district of Jammu and Kashmir. The cracks, however, have not further spread to other buildings. The authorities said they area awaiting a report from the Geological Survey of India (GSI) for the follow-up action.

Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM) Thathri Athar Amin Zargar told this newspaper that after the rains, the landslides took place in Nai Basti village in Doda on Thursday. He said due to the landslides, the cracks in the 21 structures damaged by land sinking in the Nai Basti village have further widened and increased. At least 21 concrete structures, including 19 houses, a mosque and a madrasa, developed cracks after land sinking in the Nai Basti village. Three houses have completely collapsed after suffering cracks. There are apprehensions that at least six more damaged houses may also collapse.

The cracks have rendered the structures unsafe for living and the administration has advised the families living in these to shift to safer places. The SDM said the land measuring 80x200 sq meters stretch close to Old Highway has been affected by land sinking. "The cracks have not spread to other buildings and adjoining areas. The zone of influence has not extended," he said. According to SDM, three out of 19 families, whose houses have been damaged are living in a relief camp set up by the administration while the rest of them are living either at their relatives' houses or at rented accommodation.

"The GSI team has not yet sent its report to the administration. We are waiting for the report so that follow-up action can be taken," the SDM said. Officials say several factors, including construction of roads, seepage of water, sewerage, loose strata, heavy rains and frequent earthquakes may have caused land sinking in the village. The affected people are demanding permanent relocation and rehabilitation. "Now the area is unsafe for living. The administration should relocate and rehabilitate us permanently," said a resident.

Sports have replaced stone-pelting in Kashmir: Anurag

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

UNION Minister for Youth Affairs & Sports and I&B Anurag Thakur on Friday while inaugurating the 3rd Khelo India National Winter Games at snow covered ski resort of Gulmarg in Jammu and Kashmir said it is a changing picture of Kashmir that the places which were earlier known for stone pelting are now hosting sports events. This is the third edition of the winter games in J&K.

Over 1,500 players from 29 states and UTs are participating in 11 different winter-sports sections during the five-day event. The winter games will conclude on February 14. PM Modi in his message had encouraged the players participating in the winter games. While speaking on the occasion, Thakur lauded J&K Government for developing sports facilities at grassroot level and achieving unprecedented progress in time period.

"You would not believe that the places, where there used to be stone pelting, are now known for sports activities including football, wushu, etc. The youth of Kashmir are participating in the winter games. Cricket players are now coming from here," he said.

"If you go to Srinagar and wherever you see lights switched on during the night, you should understand that Kashmiri youth is participating in sports events there to safeguard his future," he said.

"This is the picture of changing Kashmir. This is the talent of Kashmir, who would make J&K and India proud," added Thakur. Indirectly referring to abrogation of Article 370, the minister said, "J&K government has done in the last three years what was not achieved in 75 years prior to that".

"It is a moment of pride that what other states could not do, J&K has done. All districts of J&K have an indoor stadium and playgrounds," he said.

Referring to the tourist inflow to Kashmir, Thakur said record tourists visited Kashmir last year. "The tourist footfall in Kashmir in 2022 has broken the 75 year record. I hope more tourists will visit Kashmir this year," he said.

The minister said when he was coming to Gulmarg yesterday, he saw boys playing snow cricket at Tangmarg, a few kilometers from Gulmarg.

"I had played cricket in different parts of the country but never played snow cricket. J&K has started a new initiative of snow cricket. It is good for tourism. It will also add to the attraction of tourists," he added.

Industrial production declines to 4.3% in Dec from 7.3% in Nov

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE country's industrial production growth fell to 4.3% in December from 7.3% in November 2022, mainly due to subdued performance of the manufacturing sector, as per the official data released on Friday.

However, there was an improvement in the Index of Industrial Production (IIP), which stood at 1% in December 2021, on year-on-year basis.

As per the IIP data released by the National Statistical Office (NSO), manufacturing sector's output grew 2.6% in December 2022 from 0.6% a year ago. Growth stood at 6.4% in the preceding month of November 2022. Mining output rose by 9.8% during the month under review, from 2.6% in December 2021. Power generation rose 10.4% in December 2022 as against 2.8% in the year-ago month. As per use-based classification, capital goods segment recorded a growth of 7.6% in December against a decline of 3% in the corresponding month of the last fiscal.

Consumer durables output fell 10.4% as against a contraction of 1.9% a year ago. Consumer non-durable goods output expanded 7.2% as against a growth of 0.3% earlier. Infrastructure/construction goods too posted a growth of 8.2% as against 2% in the same month of 2021. Output of primary goods logged 8.3% growth in the month as against 2.8% in the same period a year ago. "YoY growth in IIP is likely to improve in the ongoing quarter (+2.4% in Q3 FY2023), partly boosted by typical year-end push in volumes to achieve targets as well as a low base of the third Covid wave. However, we remain watchful of the impact of a slowdown in external demand and the consequent decline in merchandise exports on the performance of the manufacturing sector," says Aditi Nayar, chief economist, ICRA.

Didn't cut subsidies for fiscal consolidation: FM

Provision for food subsidy adequate to cover all expenditure, she says

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

Budget Buzz

- FM allays concerns over cutting down on allocation for MNREGA
- She says govt will provide for higher funds if needed
- Sitharaman says new tax regime will leave more income in the hands of consumers
- Higher capital spending will revive economy as it has greater multiplier effect, she says

RESPONDING to oppositions' criticism that the Centre reduced subsidies for fertilizer and food in the Budget, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharman said the expenditure on both the subsidies has increased and the government didn't cut on the welfare schemes to maintain fiscal consolidation.

"From 2015-16 to 2019-20, food subsidies have been in the range of ₹1-1.2 lakh crore, whereas in the budget for 2023-24, the projection for food subsidy is ₹1.97 lakh crore.

So, it is double what was given in 2019-20," Sitharaman said in the Lok Sabha while discussing the Union Budget 2023-24. She stated that the provision for food subsidy is adequate to cover all the anticipated expenditure for the previous operations, so that is not even less. "The increase in the subsidy in the last two years was due to the increase in Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Ann Yojana to 80 crore people. In the December allocation of PM Garib Kalyan Yojana, the government will bear all the costs of the previous operation with no cost to the beneficiary or even to the state governments. So, there is no reduction in the subsidy. It's completely wrong to say that the centre cut on food subsidies to maintain the fiscal consolidation," she added.

Similarly, with respect to fertilizer subsidy, Sitharaman said, from 2015-16 to 2020, it was in the range of ₹65,000-₹80,000 crore and in 2022-23, provision was made for ₹1.05 lakh crore but it has been raised to ₹2.25 lakh crore for FY23 because of the rise in international prices.

The FM also allayed the concerns that the government is cutting down on the allocation of rural employment guarantee scheme MNREGA.

She said the government will provide for higher funds if needed. Meanwhile, the Minister also denied the allegations that the government made budget allocations for green and clean energy, keeping Adani Group in mind. The government has provided ₹35,000 crore for clean energy transition in the Budget 2023-24.

BOJ RATE HIKE TO HIT JAPAN INC: S&P WARNS

Bank of Japan (BOJ) interest rate hike in future could affect the Japan's sovereign debt rating if firms struggle to absorb rising funding costs, S&P said. According to a Reuters report citing an S&P official said higher borrowing costs could lead to a downturn in long-term economic growth. Japanese bond yields have crept up on market expectations. Further hike in interest rates could increase Japan's already large debt burden, said Kim Eng Tan, senior director of S&P's sovereign ratings team in Asia-Pacific. Such factors are already taken into account in the current "A+" sovereign debt rating, according to Tan.

MSCI cuts weightage of 4 Adani firms

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

GLOBAL index provider MSCI has lowered the weightages of four Adani Group companies after reviewing the free float status of some the Group's securities over feedbacks of market participants following the allegations of stock price manipulation by US-based short seller Hindenburg Research.

MSCI, however, kept the free float status of four Adani firms unchanged. Adani Group faced another setback after Moody's Investor Service on Friday revised downwards the rating outlook on four Adani companies to negative from stable.

Adani group companies whose weightages have been reduced in the MSCI Indices are Adani Enterprises, Adani Total Gas, Adani Transmission and ACC. MSCI has maintained a status quo on Adani Ports & SEZ, Ambuja Cements, Adani Green Energy and Adani Power. Of the total 10 listed Adani Cos, except for NDTV and Adani Wilmer, the remaining 8 are part of the MSCI Indices.

The changes, which would be effective on February 28, are expected to intensify selling pressure in Adani group stocks which already are under severe pressure. Following the January 24 report, Adani group has lost over $100 billion in market capitalization."MSCI has changed the foreign inclusion factor (FIF) in a few names and the major downward revision has been seen in Adani Transmission, Adani Total Gas and Adani Enterprises. This will lead to meaningful outflows in these names," said a note by Nuvama Alternative & Quantitative Research.

Nuvama projects $161 million outflow in Adani Enterprises, $145 million outflow in Adani Transmission and $110 million outflow in Adani Total Gas after the revision in weightage. Shares of Adani Enterprises fell about 10% in the early trading hours of Friday but recouped some of their losses to settle 4% lower at ₹1,847 on the BSE. Adani Total Gas and Adani Transmission hit their lower circuit of 5%, while ACC shed 2%. Adani Green Energy and Adani Power also hit their lower price band of 5%, while Adani Ports and Ambuja Cements ended with marginal gains.

Chinese internet firm Alibaba exits Paytm, sells 3.3% stake for ₹1,380 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CHINA-BASED Alibaba has sold its remaining 3.3% direct stake in the fin-tech firm One97 Communications, which operates under the Paytm brand, in a block deal on Friday.

As per the NSE data, it sold over 2.14 crore shares at an average price of 642.74. This would have fetched the Chinese firm about ₹1,380 crore.

Paytm's December 2022 shareholding pattern suggests Alibaba had a 6.26% stake in Paytm. Of this, it off-loaded a 3% stake in January and the remaining was sold on Friday.

Alibaba through its affiliate firm Ant Financial still holds close to 25% stake in Paytm. The Chinese billionaire Jack Ma-founded company was one of the earliest investors in the fintech company. Meanwhile, Morgan Stanley Asia (Singapore) bought over 54 lakh shares at an average price of ₹640 in Paytm, showed the NSE data. It sold over 5 lakh shares in another block deal at a price of ₹667.66. This exit by Alibaba comes days after Paytm reported its first-ever quarterly operating profit as a listed firm, leading to a rally of about 36% in its share prices in just 4 sessions. The stock, however, witnessed heavy selling pressure on Friday, ending at ₹651, down 7.8% over its previous day's close on the NSE.

Paytm shares continue to trade below its initial public offer (IPO) price of ₹2,150 apiece. Since its listing in November 2021, the stock has lost about 60% due to valuation concerns. Paytm had on February 3 announced achieving its operating profitability milestone with EBITDA before ESOP cost at ₹31 crore, ahead of its guided timeline of September 2023.

Paytm founder and CEO Vijay Shekhar Sharma said they have achieved this milestone without losing sight on growth opportunities and keeping compliances as well as risk factors under a strict watch. Sharma added that the next key milestone for Paytm is free cash flow generation. "With our focus on growth and keeping a tight vigil on operational risk and compliances, I am confident we will soon achieve our next milestone of becoming a free cash flow generating company," he said.

RBI issues list of entities not authorised to deal in forex

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday issued an updated alert list of entities which are neither authorised to deal in forex nor allowed to operate electronic trading platforms' (ETPs) forex transactions.

Total 34 entities, including FX Western, eToro, Pepperstone, iFOREX, Alpari and Quotex feature in the banking sector regulator's alert list.

"The Alert List also contains names of entities/platforms/websites which appear to be promoting unauthorised entities/ETPs, including through advertisements of such unauthorised entities or claiming to be providing training/advisory services," said RBI in a statement on Friday.

The RBI has cautioned the public not to undertake forex transactions on unauthorised ETPs and to remit or deposit money for such unauthorised transactions.

The central bank has said an entity not having its name in the list should not assume that it is authorised by the RBI to deal in forex. It advised firms to check the list of authorised persons from its website to get latest update.

"This list is not exhaustive and is based on what was known to RBI at the time of publication."

SHORT VIDEO APP

TikTok fires 40, closes remote sales support hub

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

SHORT video-making app TikTok has sacked nearly 40 people in India who were working for the Brazil and Dubai markets, and has closed its remote sales support hub in the country.

When asked whether the company has shut its India operations, a TikTok spokesperson said they have not closed the office and that they have taken the decision to close its India remote sales support hub. This was put in place at the end of 2020 to provide support to its global and regional sales teams. "We greatly appreciate these employees and their impact on our company, and will ensure they are supported at this difficult time," the spokesperson added.

It is said employees were already aware of this development as TikTok was banned in 2020 in the country along with other Chinese apps. The government banned 59 other apps in June 2020 including WeChat, DU Cleaner and DU Browser.

ByteDance, TikTok's parent company, is headquartered in Beijing, and the social media app had the largest users, about 200 million when it was banned. Short video platforms such as Moj, Josh and Roposo accelerated their growth after the ban of TikTok.

When TikTok was banned, the government said they received many representations raising concerns from citizens regarding security of data and risk to privacy relating to operation of certain apps.

In relief to digital lenders, govt revokes ban on many loan apps

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

IN a relief to digital lending apps, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) has decided to revoke the ban orders after reviewing their apps and conducting meetings.

As per the reports, MeitY officials will inform the app hosting platforms like Google to revoke the ban and let the apps run as usual. The government on February 6, 2022, decided to ban 138 betting and 94 loan lending apps with Chinese links. However, many Indian apps including digital lenders Kissht, LazyPay, Buddy Loan, Faircent, and CashTM fell into the banned list. The blocking orders were given under Sec 69A of the Information Technology Act 2000 on an 'urgent' and 'emergency' basis. A MeitY official had on Thursday said the government has given these apps 48 hours to prove their genuineness. "Depending on what documents they will submit..if they are genuine, then the decision will be overturned," said the official.

It is believed MeitY officials met with these digital lenders and found out their papers were genuine. KreditBee and Rupeedee have received notification for revocation on Aptoide platforms. Loan apps have come under the scanner of government and law enforcement agencies. The government, in Parliament, said the RBI issued advisories to state governments to check unauthorised digital lending platforms and mobile apps via their agencies. This move comes after the rise of loan app scams. It said these apps, often displaying predatory behaviour to trap individuals in massive debt, can be misused as tools for espionage and propaganda.

India's forex reserves fall $1.5 bn to $575 bn

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

INDIA'S foreign exchange reserves declined by $1.494 billion to reach $575.267 billion as of 3 February, showed the data released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday.

The fall in the forex reserves was mainly on account of decline in the RBI's foreign currency assets, which fell $1.3 billion to $507.69 billion in the previous week, according to the Weekly Statistical Supplement released by the RBI.

In the previous reporting week, the overall reserves had jumped by $3.03 billion to $576.76 billion.

Expressed in dollar terms, the foreign currency assets include the effect of appreciation or depreciation of non-US units like the euro, pound and yen held in the foreign exchange reserves.

After rising for multiple weeks, gold reserves decreased by $ 246 million to $43.781 billion, the RBI said.

The Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) were up by $66 million to $18.544 billion. The country's reserve position with the IMF climbed $9 million to $5.247 billion in the reporting week, the apex bank data showed.

In October 2021, the country's forex kitty had reached an all-time high of $645 billion.

The reserves have been declining as the central bank deploys the kitty to defend the rupee amid pressures caused majorly by global developments.

No relief for Google as SC refuses to alter Jan order

NCLAT refused to stay CCI order on ₹1.3K cr penalty

The company filed a plea in the Supreme Court after the NCLAT refused to stay a CCI order levying a penalty of ₹1,338 crore for exploiting its dominant position with respect to Android. The order passed by the NCLAT on January 6 refused to stay the CCI's order and directed it to deposit 10% of the penalty amount within a period of three weeks

IN a setback to Google, the Supreme Court on Friday declined a plea by the tech giant to modify its 19 January 2023 order, in which it refused to give any relief against an NCLAT order asking it to pay 10% of the penalty imposed by the anti-trust regulator.

A bench headed by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud said no further explanation is necessary. "Go present your appeal before the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal ," said CJI. Following the SC order, now the entire Android matter will be heard by the NCLAT from February 15 to 17, 2023. The company on January 25 filed a modification application in the apex court seeking "modification" of the apex court's judgement in the Android case. Google, in its plea, stated the January 19 ruling didn't record the entire extent of Google's offer.

The company filed a plea in the Supreme Court after the NCLAT refused to stay a CCI order levying a penalty of ₹1,338 crore for exploiting its dominant position with respect to Android. The order passed by the NCLAT on January 6 refused to stay the CCI's order and directed it to deposit 10% of the penalty amount within a period of three weeks.

However, on January 25, Google informed CCI that it would comply with its directives. The company changed its android policy for Indian users which includes allowing original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) to li¬cense individual Google apps for pre¬installation on their devices. Indian users will now have the option to choose their default search engine. User choice billing will be available to all apps and games starting next month.

In October 2022, the competition regulator penalised ₹2,200 crore on the company for anti-competitive practices. It was fined ₹1,337.76-crore for exploiting its dominant position with respect to Android and another ₹936-crore in a case related to its Play Store policies.

IBA ready to bear US, Ireland tour expenses

Two big stakeholders — USA and Ireland — of the sport have decided to boycott the upcoming men's and women's World Championships in India and Uzbekistan, respectively. But IBA remains unfazed and said that they are willing to cover all the necessary expenses for the events for boxers from those two nations. In a response to Anmol Gurung, IBA said "This attack on IBA cannot be seen as anything other than a clear act to damage IBA's reputation". Full story: newindianexpress.com

SPOTLIGHT ON CONTENDERS

Prohibitive favourites Australia begin their campaign while England, one of the other strong sides, also kickstart their journey. A look at the second day of the T20 World Cup.

DEFENDING CHAMPS LOOK TO FEND OFF RING RUST

Having suffered a defeat against Ireland in one of the warm-up games, Australia will hope to have polished all the ring rust ahead of their opener against New Zealand. It promises to be an intriguing affair full of subplots and multiple layers. What the likes of skipper Sophie Devine, Suzie Bates and Amelia Kerr do will decide whether this match will be competitive well into the third hour. For Australia, it's a chance to hit the ground running against well established performers.

2020

Australia won the last edition in 2020 when a record crowd at the MCG witnessed the final between the hosts and India

FORMER CHAMPIONS IN INTRIGUING CLASH

England are vastly superior and the margin of their wins against West Indies in recent times is an indication of that (they have won each of their last five matches). It's a chance to look at the likes of Danni Wyatt and Sophie Ecclestone as they are two of the key performers with bat and ball respectively. For West Indies, who won the event in 2016, much will revolve around the likes of Hayley Matthews.

INJURY CONCERNS FOR INDIA

With skipper Harmanpreet Kaur and her deputy Smriti Mandhana suffering injuries, both of them did not take part in the final warm-up against Bangladesh. Harmanpreet, who has a shoulder injury, is expected to make the first match against Pakistan. However, Mandhana, who injured her finger during the warm-up fixture against Australia, might miss the game on Sunday. However, it has been learned that she is not ruled out of the WC and is expected to get fit in time for the clash against West Indies on Wednesday.

2009

England won the inaugural edition

Shikha's willingness to relearn & deliver

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN Harsha de Silva got a text from Ashley Noffke — Head of Female Pathways at Queensland Cricket — saying that Shikha Pandey was coming to Queensland to play club cricket, as the head coach of Wynnum and Manly District Cricket Club he knew exactly what he had to do. "I'm pretty sure they may have sent it to other clubs as well, saying that 'guys, she's here' other clubs are going to be interested in taking her on. So, I jumped at it," De Silva recalls with a laugh. The only thing he had to ask Noffke was what they had to do to secure her services. The answer was simple: find accommodation and transportation to training and matches.

Now, at this point, it had been several months since Shikha had been left out of India's squad for the 2022 ODI World Cup. Having overcome the initial disappointment and fighting off thoughts of retirement, the 33-year-old reached out to the people around who knew her well. She returned to training under Nitin Vernekar, the former Goa cricketer, whom she had worked with as an U-19 player. It was through those sessions with the academy boys that she found the joy again. Following that, her stint with Goa in the senior T20s in April meant she was able to almost completely distract herself from the disappointment that had been.

It was around that time that Shikha also reached out to former Australia captain Belinda Clark whose encouragement allowed the all-rounder to regain her confidence and begin to search for opportunities to challenge herself. That is how she got in touch with Noffke, hoping to play in Queensland for a few weeks before the domestic season began in India. For her, the objective was simple — it was an adventure to find new places and friends, an effort to leave her comfort zone and embrace new experiences. "I thought it was marvellous," says De Silva. "Having been part of the Sri Lankan women's team I know the pressure the players are under at the international level whenever they train or play. So when she said she just wanted to start enjoying her game just to refresh herself, it was fantastic."

A week into her time in Queensland, Shikha smashed a century on debut for Sea Eagles, the Wynnum & Manly club team, against Sandgate-Redcliffe. As she continued to find joy at cricket while training with the Qld Fire squad, off it Shikha was having a huge impact on the cricketers at Wynnum & Manly.

Having found the love she had for the game as a five-year-old, it was time for Shikha to return home after three weeks despite a standing offer to play for the Heat in WBBL. There was a T20 World Cup coming up and she was more determined than ever. A rejuvenated Shikha took 20 wickets in 16 T20s at an average of 13.45 and an economy of 4.63 in the domestic season.

Biju George, who was head coach of the South Zone team during the T20 Inter Zonals, says that Shikha came into the tournament with confidence and single-mindedness that reflected in her performances. "I believe she was much better than what I saw of her in 2018. We talked about her time in Australia, the efforts she was putting in, planning her comeback, etc. 'I know what I have to do and I will keep pushing' is what she had to say," said George, who has worked with the Indian team as a fielding coach.

As the news about Shikha's inclusion in the squads for the Tri-series and T20 World Cup in South Africa broke, the celebrations broke out in pockets all around the world. It was a testament to her as a person and a player. From Vernekar to George, from her Goa teammates to the Wynnum & Manly community, everyone she had reached out to felt pride and joy in her comeback.

FIROZ MIRZA @ Nagpur

SINCE becoming Test captain in February 2022, Rohit Sharma has been forced to miss three of the five matches India played in the period. Returning to lead the country in the longest format after March 2022, the opening Test couldn't have been sterner.

They were facing the World No 1 in their bid to retain the prestigious Border-Gavaskar Trophy. Add to it, a lot depended on the outcome of the series if India wished to qualify for the World Test Championship final, a match they had lost to New Zealand in the previous cycle.

All eyes were on the 35-year-old batter from Mumbai as the series began at the VCA Stadium in Jamtha, Nagpur on Thursday. He might have lost the toss, considered crucial given the nature of the surface rolled out for the match, but his bowlers negated that it by bundling out Pat Cummins-led side for 177.

Once again, he was in the spotlight as a good beginning would give his team a healthy lead as well as the cushion of not chasing an uncomfortable target in the fourth innings on a deteriorating track. As was expected of him, he didn't disappoint. The hosts ended the first day at 77/1 with Rohit playing a counter-attacking innings to remain unbeaten on 56 off 69. The first session of the Day 2, however, didn't go well with India losing two wickets including that of Test specialist Cheteshwar Pujara. The situation aggravated further as Virat Kohli got out the very first ball after the break leaving the team slightly vulnerable at 151/4. Rohit was still there but the pressure was back on him and the team. Debutant Suryakumar Yadav's dismissal didn't help him either. The onus was on the captain to pull the team out of the trouble and he did exactly that but in a style not many associate him with. After scoring at a brisk pace on the first day, he slowed down a lot on Friday with wickets falling around him. He added only 29 in the first session before accumulating another 35 before being dismissed.

Luckily, in Ravindra Jadeja, he found an able ally to take the team beyond 200-run mark. In the end, he batted for nearly six hours facing 212 balls to notch up his first Test century in almost one-and-a-half-years. The innings, which included 15 fours and two sixes, also made him the first Indian captain to score a century in all international formats of the game.

Batting coach Vikram Rathour was all praise for Rohit. "It was a special innings by Rohit and it is a great feeling (to see him score runs). He showed good temperament and it was a very important innings as the surface wasn't easy to bat on," he said. "He has got runs on seaming tracks in England. But if we talk about this particular innings, he was made to work hard for his runs. Normally, with Rohit when he scores his first few runs, he then pushes the score. But here he had to work hard," added the former India player.

Even as Australia eventually got rid off Rohit, by then India had taken a lead of more than 50 runs. That only swelled as Jadeja (66) along with Axar Patel (52) stitched together an unbroken 81-run partnership for the eighth wicket to give their team a considerable lead of 144 runs.

With the duo at the crease, India can hope to take their lead beyond 200 on Saturday morning. If that happens, the visitors will be forced to play the chasing game on the strip where batting is only going to get difficult as the game progresses.

Dream debut in Nagpur for another Aussie offie

FIROZ MIRZA @Nagpur

IN 2008, the newly-built Vidarbha Cricket Association (VCA) Stadium in Jamtha, Nagpur was all decked up for its international debut by hosting the fourth and final Test of the series against visiting Australia. The match gained further significance as the then India's most-successful captain Sourav Ganguly was scheduled to retire from the international arena after the contest.

Another player, though, stole the limelight on his debut. Jason Krejza bamboozled the India batters with his off-break to bag eight in the first innings and finish the match with an impressive 12-wicket haul. The Aussies lost the match and series 0-2 but Krejza was adjudged player of the match for his brilliant show in his maiden Test outing.

Fourteen years later, the same story unfolded between the same opponents at the same venue with the only difference being the protagonist. Todd Murphy, another off-spinner, impressed all and sundry as he bagged a fifer (5/82 in 36 overs) including the prized wicket of batter Virat Kohli on his maiden international outing.

"It's been a pretty special couple of days. To top it off with a five-wicket haul on debut is more than I ever hoped for and it is going to be something that I'll look back on for the rest of my life and be proud of," said Murphy at the end of the second day's play.

There were talks of him being included in the playing XI ahead of the match but it was a tough call as Australia had never picked two off-spinners in the same Test since 1988. With Nathan Lyon being their primary offie, dice seemed to be loaded against Murphy.

More importantly, the 22-year-old Murphy was a fringe state cricketer trying desperately to break into the Victoria starting XI last year. However, a prolific Sheffield Shield campaign for Victoria where he claimed 29 wickets in seven matches brought him into the reckoning as India tour loomed. Given the sub-continental pitches, the bespectacled Murphy was included in the 18-member Australian squad. "I think this time last year I was still not in the state side so it sort of has been quite quick progress," he said speaking on his dream journey in the last one year. But until 2016, he used to be a medium-pace bowling all-rounder. As he realised it was not working, Murphy started bowling off-spin in the nets. A tour of Sri Lanka with Australia A followed by a 10-day visit to the MRF Academy in Chennai last year helped him understand the conditions in the sub-continent.

Todd Murphy celebrates the wicket of India's Cheteshwar Pujara | AFP

"One of the biggest things for me was getting to go to Sri Lanka and being on that A tour and having a little bit of success. That probably gave me the confidence I needed going back to Australia that I could mix it with first class cricketers."

The past learnings paid dividends when he was summoned to bowl towards the end of Day 1 by skipper Pat Cummins. He had India opener KL Rahul in the penultimate over of the opening day and followed it up with four more wickets the next day. Krejza might have ended with just two Tests under his belt despite the dazzling debut but Murphy looks set for a big innings especially with his show of skills, that included the trajectory, loop, angle, curve and seam rotation.

SHELDON Jackson and skipper Arpit Vasavada struck a century each as Saurashtra turned the tables on Karnataka, posting 364 for 4 in their first innings in reply to the opposition's 407 on the third day of their Ranji Trophy semifinal here on Friday. Jackson made 160 off 245 balls and decorated his knock with 23 boundaries and two sixes, while Vasavada remained unbeaten on 112 (219 balls, 15x4s) as the duo shared 232 runs for the fourth wicket to bring Saurashtra back into the contest.

Brief Scores: Karnataka 407 vs Saurashtra 364/4 in 112 ovs (Jackson 160, Arpit Vasavada 112 batting). Bengal 438 & 59/2 in 29 ovs vs MP 170 in 79 ovs (Saransh Jain 65; Akash Deep 5/42, Shahbaz Ahmed 2/30).

Girls make light work of Singapore, reach semis

SRIVATSAN R @ Chennai

"ANAHAT SINGH is a prodigy. Players like her come once every 10 years," says Dhruv Dhawan. India's junior squash coach had just seen Singh and two of her teammates, Yuvna Gupta and Pooja Arthi R, dismantle Singapore 3-0 to reach the semifinals of the Asian Junior Championships. Singh had opened India's account before Arthi and Gupta helped the hosts to a commanding victory. They will face Malaysia for a place in Sunday's final.

"Anahat was clinical, and that helped a lot to set the tone," Dhawan said. For me, Pooja played the match of the day. She played the best squash that I've seen her play, and her opponent was not an easy opponent (Au Yeong Wai Iynn). She beat her 3-1, which was very, very good."

India's Pooja Arthi R (right) in action

While talking about the thrilling second tie of the match between Gupta and Ong Zhe Sim, he said: "Yuvna was two-match points down, and she came back from there, so hats off to her. The second tie is always pressure because if she loses, then the third player has a lot more pressure going in. This was a medal match, and I'm sure it was playing in her mind. Also, she's been a national champion in the juniors, and that experience helped her a lot."

When he was asked to elaborate on Singh, who had grabbed eyeballs during her performances at the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham, Dhawan opened up. "We have Joshna (Chinappa). We have Dipika (Pallikal). I feel like we need to support her. After Anahat, the drop-off is very big. If you compare her with other -15 girls, we are way behind her within India. And in the long run, that will hurt her because this batch will go to college etc."

Singh, who won the U-15 British Open (a very prestigious age-group event in the sport) last month, dominated Lee Zi Fang from start to finish. She essentially showed why she's ranked India's best player at the event. If the country is to harness her talent, Dhawan was of the opinion that the country should host more PSA events. "Within the domestic circuit, she needs players to play with to keep that momentum going. For that reason, a lot of PSAs in India should be organized. Even for small professional tournaments, players from abroad are coming in where she gets exposure playing them. She has got to step up and play the bigger players. We have to look after her big time." he explained.

On Saturday, Singh will again have the opportunity to show why she's rated very highly.

Jehan amped up about Formula E experience

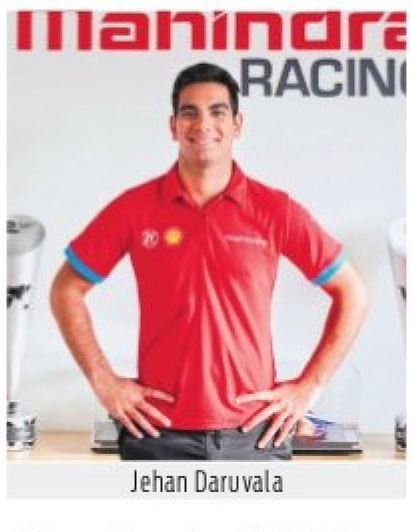
VISHNU PRASAD

IT has been more than a decade since an Indian driver lined up on a Formula One grid. Not since Narain Karthikeyan in 2012 has an Indian managed to reach the highest stage in motorsports.

Jehan Daruvala is perhaps the only realistic candidate to end this drought over the next few years. The former Force India Academy driver has been on the cusp of the big league for a few years now - 2023 will mark his fourth straight season in Formula 2. His chances seemed a lot brighter when, in 2020, he was drafted to the Red Bull Junior Team, a programme which gave the likes of Sebastian Vettel and Max Verstappen their starts. However, 2023 began with his release from the programme following two straight seventh-placed finishes in Formula 2.

Daruvala, though, is in no mood to give up on his F1 dream. "I am proud of the career I've had so far," he says. "I've had the privilege of racing in some seriously competitive categories against some of the best drivers in the world and I think I've acquitted myself quite well. I've won in every category I've raced in, from go-karts all the way to Formula Two and now I'm on the cusp of a new chapter in my career as Formula E reserve for Mahindra Racing.

"As far as Formula One is concerned, there are only 20 seats on the grid," Daruvala says. "There have been years when as many as three or four drivers from the F2 field have graduated to F1. This year, only one driver from last year's F2 field will be making the step up. That said, my tests with McLaren last year showed that I am ready for F1. I am one of the few drivers who have the points needed to be eligible for an F1 super license and if the opportunity of an F1 drive does come up in 2024 then I am sure that I will have the support of everyone to represent the country there."



Jehan Daruvala

This year, Daruvala will line up for MP Motorsports, who had the championship winning car in the 2022 F2 season. Daruvala will head into the season with a wealth of experience that few on the grid can rival. That showed as he set the second-fastest time in pre-season testing. "Personally, I think I can be quite satisfied with my own performances as I definitely feel like I raised my game," Daruvala says.

He will have additional duties in Formula E this season, as Mahindra Racing's reserve driver. It is an experience Jehan is looking to learn from. "Formula E is a very exciting championship to be a part of, especially as the cars are getting faster," says Jehan. "This year's new Gen 3, for instance, will be capable of touching speeds of 320 km/h. So when I got the opportunity to sign up as a reserve with Mahindra Racing and as an Indian driver representing an Indian team, it was a no-brainer for me. The experience so far has been positive. I've spent a lot of time with the team at its factory in England and I was also at the track supporting the team at the second round of the season in Saudi Arabia."

Disaster aid goes to relief, not rebuilding

PHILANTHROPY

The Covid-19 pandemic greatly accelerated a long-running pattern in giving by foundations and charities for health and natural disasters, a new Chronicle analysis of nine years of data show.

Ninety percent of the $5.2 billion donated in 2020, the most recent year for which data is available, went to dealing with immediate disaster needs.

In other years, about half of disaster grantmaking went to such purposes.

The rest went to helping communities prepare for hurricanes, droughts, life-threatening spread of disease, and other problems as well as to recovery and rebuilding.

The amount of money foundations and charities gave in response to Covid-19 is stunning compared with the past. The 2020 figures are 15 times as much as the contributions in 2019.

To be sure, grantmakers aren't keeping up that pace: Preliminary figures for more recent giving show that foundations are slowing their giving considerably.

The review of data from the Center for Disaster Philanthropy and Candid—a research organization that tracks giving of all kinds—has shown that the sums flowing to disasters aren't always going where they are most needed, which is namely for long-term recovery efforts and ensuring that various communities are resilient enough to withstand the growing number of natural disasters which are caused by climate change.

Cold War fears revisited in Danish nuclear bunker

Hidden deep in northern Denmark's Rold Forest, a sprawling top secret nuclear bunker is opening to the public for the first time, shedding light on daily life during the Cold War

SHELTER TRANSFORMS INTO MUSEUM

The underground shelter, where everything is still intact as in a time capsule, becomes a museum from Monday, amid revived fears in Europe of a nuclear conflict following Russia's invasion of Ukraine

Nestled beneath trees, 60 metres under a chalk hill, it was meant to be "the last bastion" of democracy in Denmark, museum director Lars Christian Norbach said

RUSSIA RETALIATES AGAINST CAP, CUTS OIL OUTPUT

Announces it will its cut oil production by 5 lakh barrels per day from March; action aimed at raising crude oil prices to pressure the West

ENERGY

MOSCOW: Russia announced on Friday that will cut oil production by 500,000 barrels per day next month after Western countries capped the price of its crude over its action in Ukraine.

"As of today, we fully sell all our crude output, but as we stated before, we will not sell oil to those who directly or indirectly adhere to the 'price ceiling,'" Deputy Prime Minister Alexander Novak said in remarks carried by Russian news agencies. "In connection with that, Russia will voluntarily cut production by 500,000 barrels a day. It will help restore market-style relations," he said. Analysts have said one possible Russian response to the cap would be to slash production to try to raise oil prices, which could eventually flow through to higher gasoline prices at the pump as less oil makes it to the global market.

International benchmark Brent crude rose 2.2% on Friday, to $86.42 per barrel.

The Group of Seven major democracies have imposed a $60-per-barrel price cap on Russian oil shipped to non-Western countries. The goal is to keep oil flowing to the world to prevent price spikes that were seen last year, while limiting Russia's financial gains that can be used to pay for its campaign against Ukraine. The cap is enforced by barring Western companies that largely control shipping and insurance services from moving oil priced above the limit.

An oil tanker is moored at the Sheskharis complex, in Novorossiysk, Russia | AP

Russia has said it will not sell oil to countries observing the cap, a moot point because Russian oil has been trading below the price ceiling recently. However, the cap, an accompanying EU embargo on most Russian oil and lower demand for crude have meant that customers in India, Turkey and China have been able to push for substantial discounts on Russian oil. The impact of a cut of 500,000 barrels per day is an open question as a slowing global economy reduces the thirst for oil.

The OPEC+ alliance of oil producers, which includes Russia, tried to boost oil prices with an October announcement that it would cut production by 2 million barrels per day, only to see prices fall below $80 per barrel by December.

Asked if Russia consulted OPEC+ about new production cut, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said "there had been conversations with some members of the OPEC+" before the move was announced.

SpaceX test-fires engines of Starship

SPACE

WASHINGTON: SpaceX conducted a successful test-firing on Thursday of the engines on the most powerful rocket ever built, designed to eventually send astronauts to the Moon and beyond.

The test, called a static fire, of the 33 Raptor engines on the first-stage booster of SpaceX's Starship took place at the private space company's base in Texas. SpaceX founder Elon Musk said one engine was turned off just before the test began and one stopped itself.

"So 31 engines fired overall," Musk said in a tweet. "But still enough engines to reach orbit!" SpaceX said the test lasted its "full duration."

Giant sheets of orange flames erupted from the base of the rocket and clouds of smoke billowed into the air during the test-firing, which lasted several seconds. The 69-metre Super Heavy booster was anchored to the ground during the test-firing to prevent it from lifting off. Starship consists of a reusable capsule that would carry crew and cargo and the first-stage booster that was tested on Thursday.

Gwynne Shotwell, the president and chief operating officer of SpaceX, said Wednesday at a conference in Washington that if the test was successful, the first orbital launch may take place within the next month or so.

"It's really the final ground test that we can do before we light 'em up and go," Shotwell said. NASA has picked the Starship capsule to ferry its astronauts to the Moon as part of the Artemis 3 mission, set for 2025 at the earliest.

The US space agency will take astronauts up to lunar orbit itself using its own heavy rocket called the Space Launch System, which has been in development for more than a decade.

Starship is both bigger and more powerful than SLS.

It generates 17 million pounds of thrust, more than double that of the Saturn V rockets used to send Apollo astronauts to the Moon.

SpaceX foresees eventually putting a Starship into orbit, and then refueling it with another Starship so it can continue a journey to Mars or beyond.

Black History programme 'limited' in US

EDUCATION

TUSCALOOSA: More than 200 students walked out of class at an Alabama high school after they say they were told by school leaders to omit certain relevant events from an upcoming student-led Black History Month programme.

However, school officials have denied the allegations even while acknowledging the need for students' concerns to be heard. Students told WBMA-TV they were ordered to leave out major historical moments, including slavery and the civil rights movement, from the programme scheduled for February 22.

The students were told they "couldn't talk about slavery and civil rights because one of our administrators felt uncomfortable," said Black History Month Programme board member J'Niyah Suttles.

She said the direction from a school administrator left her hurt. "My protector from 8 am to 3:15 pm—for you to tell me I can't talk about something that is dealing with my culture is very disturbing, it's very confusing," Suttles said.

Moratorium on seabed mining

ENVIRONMENT

Canada's government on Thursday announced it would not permit mining of seabeds under its jurisdiction until a "rigorous regulatory structure" is put in place. The interministerial statement was released as talks wrapped up in Vancouver of the fifth International Marine Protected Areas Congress (IMPAC5), which began last Friday. Supporters of deep-sea mining claim that pellets of nickel and cobalt—used in electric car batteries—can be conveniently scooped off the seabed, helping reduce our fossil fuel reliance. But conservation groups and scientists fear this could devastate poorly understood marine systems.

Stone Age discovery fuels mystery of who made early tools

HISTORY

NEW YORK: Archaeologists in Kenya have dug up some of the oldest stone tools ever found, but who used them is a mystery.

In the past, scientists assumed that our direct ancestors were the only toolmakers. But two big fossil teeth found along with the tools at the Kenyan site belong to an extinct human cousin known as Paranthropus, according to a study published on Thursday in the journal Science.

This adds to the evidence that our direct relatives in the Homo lineage may not have been the only tech-savvy creatures during the Stone Age, said study author Rick Potts, director of the Smithsonian's Human Origins Program.

"Those teeth open up an amazing whodunit—a real question of, well, who were these earliest toolmakers?" Potts said.

The tools date back to around 2.9 million years ago, when early humans used them to butcher hippos for their meat, the researchers report.

Older stone tools have been found in Kenya, dating back to around 3.3 million years ago, long before our own Homo ancestors appeared. Those tools were a bit simpler and so far have only been found in one spot, said Shannon McPherron, an archaeologist at Germany's Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology who was not involved with the study.

The latest discovery matches up with a much bigger tradition known as the Oldowan toolkit.

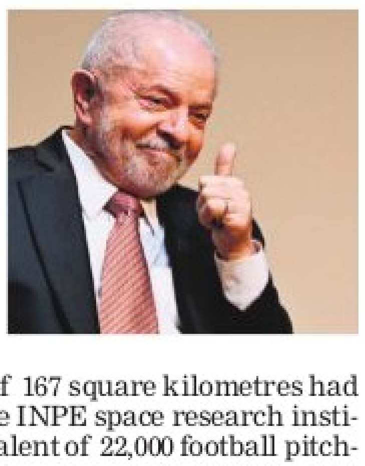
These same kinds of tools show up across Africa and beyond during more than a million years of prehistory, Potts said, showing they really caught on among early humans. They held a rock in one hand and hit it with another stone, chipping off thin, razor-sharp flakes, explained anthropologist Kathy Schick of the Stone Age Institute in Indiana, who wasn't involved in the research.

With the rocks and flakes, early humans could slice and crush a wide range of materials, said lead author Thomas Plummer, an anthropologist at Queens College of the City University of New York. And the tools from the Kenya site—likely the most ancient Oldowan tools found to date—suggest this gave them an advantage in a key area: eating.

The site, known as Nyayanga, is a lush, hilly landscape on the shores of Lake Victoria. Since starting excavations there in 2015, researchers have found a trove of artefacts and animal bones, along with the two Paranthropus teeth.

Amazon deforestation down 61%

ENVIRONMENT



Deforestation in Brazil's Amazon rainforest was down 61 percent in January—Leftist President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva's first month back in the job—compared with the same period last year, according to an official report published on Friday. Satellite images from the DETER monitoring system showed an area of 167 square kilometres had been destroyed, according to the INPE space research institute. That amounts to the equivalent of 22,000 football pitches, but is a huge decrease on the 430 square kilometres of deforestation in January 2022, when far-right climate change skeptic Jair Bolsonaro was in power. The news came just before Lula was due to meet US President Joe Biden in Washington. Despite the year-over-year drop off in deforestation, the new January figure is still higher than in two of the four years of Bolsonaro's presidency. In 2019 it was 136 square kilometers and just 83 square kilometers in 2021.

More found alive after 100 hours, earthquake toll nears 23,000

Survivors include 17-year-old teenager who drank his own urine to slake thirst

ISKENDERUN

RESCUERS pulled several people alive from the shattered remnants of buildings on Friday, some who survived more than 100 hours trapped under crushed concrete in the cold after the earthquake slammed Turkey and Syria, killing nearly 23,000.

The survivors included six relatives who huddled in a small pocket under the rubble, a teenager who drank his own urine to slake his thirst, and a 4-year-old boy offered a jelly bean to calm him down as he was shimmied out.

Four days after the earthquake hammered a sprawling border region, relatives wept and chanted as rescuers pulled 17-year-old Adnan Muhammed Korkut from a basement in Turkey's Gaziantep, near the quake's epicentre. He had been trapped there for 94 hours, forced to drink his own urine to survive.

In Adiyaman, meanwhile, rescue crews pulled 4-year-old Yagiz Komsu from the debris of his home, 105 hours after the quake struck. They later managed to rescue his mother, Ayfer Komsu, who survived with a fractured rib, according the HaberTurk television.

Turkish television showed rescuers pulling out a family of four—a mother and her three children—from the pile of rubble 108 hours after the disaster in Hatay.

Three-year-old Zeynep Ela Parlak was also rescued in the same province on Friday.

The rescues on Friday provided fleeting moments of joy and relief amid the misery and hardship gripping the region and bodies lying wrapped in blankets and rugs.

Meanwhile, the UN's World Food Programme (WFP) appealed on Friday for $77 million to provide food rations and hot meals for 874,000 people affected by the earthquake in Syria and Turkey.

The number in need of aid "includes 284,000 newly displaced people in Syria and 590,000 people in Turkey, which includes 45,000 refugees and 545,000 internally displaced people," the Rome-based organisation said.

Also, NATO members have agreed to deploy shelters to ally Turkey to help provide accommodation, the alliance said on Friday.

"NATO stands in strong solidarity with our ally Turkiye, and the deployment of these shelter facilities will help to save lives," said alliance secretary general Jens Stoltenberg. Agencies

Syria approves delivery of aid to rebel-held territories

DAMASCUS

THE Syrian government said on Friday it had approved the delivery of humanitarian aid to areas outside its control in the quake-hit rebel-held northwest of the country.

"The Council of Ministers approves...the delivery of humanitarian aid to all parts of the Syrian Arab Republic," a cabinet statement said on Friday.

It added that aid distribution should be supervised by the International Committee of the Red Cross and the Syrian Red Crescent with United Nations help.

The United Nations routinely delivers aid to rebel-held areas, either from neighbouring Turkey through the Bab al-Hawa crossing or directly across the front line from government-held areas.

Some four million people in the rebel-held northwest rely on humanitarian assistance but there have been no aid deliveries from government-controlled areas in three weeks.

Only two aid convoys have reached the region this week from neighbouring Turkey, where authorities are engaged in an even bigger quake relief operation of their own.

As the WHO prepared to fly medical supplies to Syria from Dubai, Mike Ryan, executive director of the WHO's Health Emergencies Programme, said a huge backlog of aid was waiting to reach Syria's rebel-held northwest.

71 Russian missiles, drones in new wave of attack on Ukraine

KYIV

RUSSIA used strategic bombers, cruise missiles and killer drones in a wave of attacks across Ukraine early Friday. Russian forces launched 71 cruise missiles, 35 S-300 missiles and seven Shahed drones since late Thursday, Ukraine's military chief, Gen. Valerii Zaluzhnyi said. Ukrainian forces downed 61 cruise missiles and five drones.

The cruise missiles were launched by Russian Tu-95 strategic bombers and from Russian navy ships in the Black Sea, Zaluzhnyi said, while the S-300 missiles were launched from the Belgorod region just inside Russia and the Zaporizhzhia region.

Ukraine's PM Denys Shmyhal said Moscow once again targeted the power supply in another attempt to destroy the Ukrainian energy system and deprive Ukrainians of light, heat, water. "We have sustained damage to high-voltage infrastructure and generation in the western, central and eastern regions, which may cause power outages," he said.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, who has campaigned for more Western support, said, "This is terror that can and must be stopped."

The Kremlin's forces focused on Ukraine's industrial east, especially the Luhansk and Donetsk provinces. Also on Friday, Moldova's Ministry of Defence said that a missile was detected traversing its airspace near the border with Ukraine. Moldova's foreign ministry said in a statement that the Russian ambassador in Chisinau has been summoned for talks over the "unacceptable violation."

The spokesperson for Ukraine's Air Forces, Yurii Ihnat said that another missile crossed the airspace of Romania. Romania's defense ministry denied that, however, saying the closest the missile came to Romania's airspace was approximately 35 km. AP

After 19 years, revalidation of H-1B visas may resume in US

WASHINGTON

THE US is planning to resume the process of domestic visa revalidation in certain categories, like H-1B and L1 visas, on a pilot basis later this year.

Until 2004, certain categories of non-immigrant visas, particularly the H-1B, could be renewed or stamped inside the US. After that, for the renewal of these visas, the foreign tech workers have to go out of the country, mostly to their own country to get the H-1B extension stamped on their passport.

The pilot project when fully implemented will benefit professionals to get the stamping done with the US. For all the H-1B visa holders, when their visa is renewed, they need to get their passports stamped with renewal dates. This is required if they wish to travel outside of the US and re-enter the US. H-1B visa restamping is not allowed within the US.

Restamping can only be done at any US consulate. This was a big inconvenience for foreign guest workers and also for their employees.

"We are working...on plans to restart this service for certain petition-based nonimmigrant visa categories, and we hope to have a pilot up and running later this year. This would eliminate the need for these applicants to travel abroad to renew visas," a State Department spokesperson said.

"We cannot comment on how many visa holders would be initially eligible, but the pilot would begin with a small number of cases before scaling over the following 1-2 years," said the State Department spokesperson. PTI

Domestic worker wins compensation for abuse

INDONESIA: An Indonesian woman who was beaten and burned by her former Hong Kong employers was awarded more than $110,000 in damages on Friday. The abuse meted out to Kartika Puspitasari, 40, made headlines a decade ago and sparked calls for better protections for the army of women who come to the city to cook, clean and care for its children and elderly. Her employers were convicted and jailed in 2013, with a court hearing that they burned her with an iron, beat her with a bike chain and assaulted her with a paper cutter, leaving her physically scarred and traumatised. Puspitasari endured the abuse for two years, with her mistreatment only coming to light after she sought consular protection. On Friday, a judge ruled that Puspitasari had been "treated inhumanely" and awarded her $110,650

Navigating by stars: Russian journo who opposed war describes escape

PARIS

THE Russian journalist who grabbed the world's attention last year when she protested against the war in Ukraine on live television, described her "extraordinary" escape to France on Friday. Marina Ovsyannikova, who was facing 10 years in prison, fled Russia in October just before being sentenced. The former editor at Channel One made global headlines in March when she barged onto the set of its flagship Vremya (Time) evening news, holding a poster reading "No War."

She was assisted in her escape by the France-based Reporters Without Borders (RSF), using seven different vehicles and walking across the border into a forest at night. "We had to navigate by the stars and it was a real challenge," she told a press conference at the RSF headquarters in Paris. "We were hiding from the lights of border guards and tractors that were circulating but we finally succeeded and reached the border." The 44-year-old mother of two, said she had been reluctant to leave Russia. "It was still my country, even if war criminals have taken power, but they didn't give me a choice—it was either prison or emigration," she said.

NOTEWORTHY MOMENT

Singer Armaan Malik is on a high after his song You won the coveted Europe Music Award 2022 in the Best India Act category

MONIKA MONALISA

IN a recent video that singer Armaan Malik posted on social media, he poured his heart out saying, "A major reason why I think people are not happy these days is because they are doing things that are not bringing them joy." We bet Malik does not have any such issue as he ended 2022 on big high of two super hit songs – Sun Mahi and Ghaliba Hona Hai from Sukoon, an album by Sanjay Leela Bhansali, and a coveted MTV Europe Music Award (EMA) 2022 for his track You under the Best India Act category.

You, which made maximum noise for Malik, internationally, recently turned one. And naturally, it was a special moment for Malik. "The year 2023 for me is all about inner happiness and satisfaction. To experience joy in one's heart while doing anything is the highest form of satisfaction. I'm aiming for that, nothing short of it," says Malik.

It was not Malik's first EMA since his first time was in the year 2020 for his single, Control. However, the excitement about the second trophy is still special. "I'm overjoyed to win my second EMA! You is a very special record for me and for it to receive a nod at such a prestigious global platform is extremely heartwarming. The amount of love and support I have received from Armaanians all over the world is truly unprecedented and fills me with gratitude," he mentions.

Without doubt, this had to be the 'highlight moment' for him in 2022. And the singer says he has still not gotten time to cherish the moment. "The moment hit me when I stepped out of the car and walked towards the main event and took that first step. If I could adequately explain the moment, I would, but I'm still gathering my thoughts and the right response to react to this momentous event," says Malik, who went in a polished, off-beat three-piece suit for that evening.

A still from You

Immediately after he was back from Los Angeles, Malik launched Sun Maahi. The singer explains that the song talks about the ethereal feeling of being completely lost in the magical world of love and creating a universe of one's own. He promises that Sun Maahi will get listeners transported into their own world of unexplained, beautiful, and surreal love stories. "It's not limited to your romantic partners but for anyone who would go to the moon and back. Packing the feeling of genuine love are lines such as 'Khwaabon ke kinaare, main bhi aaoon tu bhi aa re, jeele zindagi zara si, thode lamhein guzaare'," explains Malik about the video filmed in LA.

Making a SPLASH

Bengaluru-based swimmers were a dominant force at the 11th Goa Swimathon, bagging 50 podium positions - more than any other city in India

DESE GOWDA

THE recently-concluded Goa Swimathon held at the Betalbatim beach in South Goa saw athletes from Bengaluru dominate the scene, bagging 50 podium finishes, more than any other city in the country. The 11th edition of the event featured nearly 700 participants from across India competing in various categories such as 250m sprint; 1km, 2km, 5km, and 10km marathon races, braving not only the open sea, but also a course infested with jellyfish.

Incidentally, for Arjuna awardee and former international swimmer Nisha Millet, it was her very first open-water event. Despite being stung nearly a dozen times, the Bengalurean finished first in the women's category and second in the overall category in the 5km marathon. "Open-water swimming in itself is quite tough. Considering it was my first race in open water and the circumstances, I'm happy with the result. But without the jellyfish, I would have thoroughly enjoyed it," says Millet.

The 41-year-old former Olympian shares that the event was more of a mental challenge than a physical one given the unpredictable conditions during the event. "I couldn't feel my right hand because of the toxins until the end of the race. But having been a confident swimmer for so many years, I didn't panic and let muscle memory kick in," she shares, adding that the support from her teammates was a major factor in her finishing the race. "I was talking to other competitive swimmers around me, we were all motivating each other. At some point I was considering stopping the race, but managed to stick together until the finish," she says.

Former Olympian Nisha Millet participating in the 5.5km marathon at the 11th Goa Swimathon

While nearly 20 per cent of the participants stopped midway through the race due to jellyfish stings, almost all athletes from Bengaluru reached the finish line. Millet thinks the recent developments in the city's swim-related landscape might be one of the factors. "Bengaluru is pretty much the swimming capital of India these days. All the top academies of the country are situated here. Also, following Covid-19, there's been a lot of interest in swimming, even among older folk. But despite their advanced ages, they are more dedicated and hardworking than some of the kids who come to my academy. There's a lot of passion for swimming in the city and that's one of the reasons we have so many winners this time," she explains.

Seventy-seven year-old Gopal Rao from Malleswaram and 72-year-old Lalitha Vijayaraghavan from Vijayanagara, both finished third in the 1km veteran's marathon in the men's and women's categories, respectively. The oldest competitor at the event, Rao isn't entirely happy with the way his race went. If not for the jellyfish situation, Rao felt that he could have done better, given that he won the event in 2019. "I've been a regular at this event for the last few years, and this time, the organisers did not do a good job," he says.

Agrees Vijayaraghavan, a veteran of several international swimathons. "It was a nightmarish experience of pain, uncertainty and discomfort. At times, I thought I might never finish, let alone manage to secure a podium finish," she shares.

XPRESS FOCUS

'Founders' day is a Time to Revisit CKC's Heritage and its Age-old Value Systems'

C Krishniah Chetty (CKC) is a kingdom in itself…an empire which began its journey into the world of jewellery armed with exceptional sense of design aesthetics, conquering many hearts, right from the royal family of Mysore followed by over 20 other royal families in the Indian sub-continent. With over 150 years in the world of jewellery, its name is synonymous with excellence, quality, and innovation. Celebrating Founders' Day, the day the business was founded on 12th February 1869, the entire month is a time of looking back and spreading the message about the immense contribution of the House of CKC towards safeguarding the rich heritage and ancient value systems as they move further into the digital era.

Dr. C Vinod Hayagriv, Managing Director & Director and Chaitanya V. Cotha, Executive Director of C Krishniah Chetty Group of Jewellers speak about the significance of the month, the innovation that customers can look forward to, and their contribution towards elevating the society on the whole.

Tell us about the significance of Founder's day?

Dr. C Vinod Hayagriv: Every year, since more than a decade, we celebrate the Founders' Day on the 12th of February. It was the day when the business was founded 154 years ago. Over a period of time, there were significant milestones. We were appointed to the royal family of Mysore as their official jewellers. Another 21 royal families from south, central and Carnatic regions of India were also associated with us. With time, we created iconic jewellery for various ambassadors as well as important dignitaries from both British and Indian government.

So, following this much rewarding and exceptional journey of recognition, we decided that it was time to remember and rededicate not just a day but an entire month to the founder. This day has multiple significance. All customers in India, who are not aware of the history of this business, get to know it. The goal being to let the message unroll far and wide. It also helps us showcase our iconic pieces of creativity that are unique and have evolved in over 150 years, from art deco to renaissance to Victorian to modern designs.

Chaitanya V. Cotha and Dr. C Vinod Hayagriv

Chaitanya V. Cotha: If one looks at our design archives, it will not be surprising to find that we were creating designs 150-plus years back, which are global trends now! So, as the business has evolved, it has also sustained itself, changing with time while the value systems of the past are maintained.

We invite people and tell them of our history. They are quite surprised at the kind of work we have done in the past since it connects to the people of the land — right from Sir M Visvesvaraya to Sir Nyapathi Madhava Rau, the Dewan of Mysore to the Mirza Ismail family among many others. These are people who have contributed phenomenally to the development of the region. So, the experience envelops a huge geographical area, involves their contributions, and our goal is to highlight these aspects to the public so that they understand the importance we give to our age-old value system even as we move into an ultra modern age.

What are the offers that consumers can avail?

Dr. Hayagriv: While we talk about our legacy and spread the message of our heritage, we also offer privileges. We have a huge loyal customer base and we offer genuine financial benefits during this month, till the 28th. Those associated with our loyalty programmes get additional benefits.

What can your customers look forward to in terms of innovation in your products?

Dr. Hayagriv: As of now, our big focus is on higher quality of design and craftsmanship. Our design sense has been deep and detailed, almost on the European standards. If you look at the design sense of Europe and Japan, it is far superior. In the West, it is more simplistic and minimalist. Our design follows the European style quotient blended with the Indian culture. We are also focussing on design coupled with high quality manufacturing capability. While handcrafted jewellery is one aspect, today we have 3D printing jewellery which is more evolved and futuristic.

Tell us about the activities of CKC Foundation?

Chaitanya: About 70 years ago, the family began contributing towards the temples of Bengaluru. Temples like the one in the corner of Kempegowda Road and Avenue Road and Ram Temple, off Commercial Street and many others.

Apart from the religious offering, scholarships for the underprivileged girl child was initiated back in those days. Today, we have over 2000 students being supported through the CKC foundation. We also focussed on rebuilding schools and classrooms, and constructing two-storied campuses on 3-acre plots. We have also given scholarships to girls and boys from 8th to 10th standards, especially those with 70% minimum academic excellence. As part of this year's Founders' Day celebrations, we distributed 110 scholarships for students from different schools.

Skill development is another focus area. We help craftsmen wanting to learn gold crafting, setting of gem stones, diamond setting, melting of gold, etc. and provide them with short term courses of 2 weeks to 6 months in our training institute.

We also try to help create some amount of civic sense through our 30 traffic wardens who go around helping traffic police and creating traffic awareness.

What are your expansion plans?

Dr. Hayagriv: We have five retail stores and four workshops in the city. While these will continue functioning, we will consider expanding in the future after considering various aspects.

The iconic Samrat restaurant, which closed down after 45 years of service in its original location on Race Course Road, is back in a modern avatar on Church Street

NEW SPACE, OLD CHARM

DESE GOWDA

IN September of last year, the iconic Samrat restaurant, inside Chalukya Hotel closed down after 45 years of service, much to the disappointment of many Bengalureans. Four months later, the restaurant has been relaunched in a brand new location on Church Street with a modern makeover. In a traditional ceremony, the new location was inaugurated by former actor Raghavendra Rajkumar, former Infosys director TV Mohandas Pai and Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar.

While Samrat's move to Church Street is likely to make the restaurant more accessible to a wider crowd, Santosh Shanbhag, the restaurant's owner, believes that the quality of the food plays a more important role in the restaurant's success rather than the location. "No particular location is better or worse in any part of Bengaluru. Church Street or the Chalukya name won't guarantee automatic success. These days people are very discerning and conscious about the way they spend money. So more than the location, the quality of the food matters. Regardless of where the restaurant is located, if the food on offer isn't good enough, people won't come to eat," he shares, adding that they haven't 'fiddled with the original menu too much'.

However, the new location has made several improvements in the way some of its iconic dishes are prepared. For instance, the process of making ravae idli, one of the staples in the restaurant, has been tweaked to make it better. "People who tried the new idli say it's better than the one served at the old location," says Shanbhag.

The family's relationship with Chalukya Samrat is over 45 years old. Appaji [Rajkumar] used to frequent the restaurant regularly. In fact, even Puneeth [Rajkumar] had visited Samrat just a few days before he passed away. Since the restaurant closed down in its original location, I felt like an iconic part of Bengaluru was taken away. Thankfully, Santosh [Shanbhag] decided to open a new outlet in Church Street. I hope it becomes as successful as the original.

PC Shekar

A still from the film

WITH LOVE BIRDS, I'M SHIFTING GEARS BACK TO ROMANCE

...says PC Shekar, who talks about his upcoming romantic drama, starring real-life couple Krishna and Milana Nagaraj

A SHARADHAA

PC Shekar likes to experiment with different genres, and that was his driving force into films. With his latest, Love Birds, he is happy to get back to helm a film in his favourite genre, a romantic subject. "My first film, Romeo, worked out in a very big way. However, my later projects had only splash of romance, as I attempted comedy with Chaddi Dost, a murder mystery drama with Arjuna, and a crime drama like The Terrorist. With Love Birds, I have shifted back to a completely romantic film," says the director, who speaks ahead of the film's release on February 17, and has real-life couple Krishna and Milana Nagaraj sharing space on the silver screen. "I always felt handling a romantic subject is little easy compared to other genres because it is a common emotion for all people. Subjects like crime or thriller needs some research, but love is an inborn quality, and we understand the emotions easily. The experience, I have received with each film has had a major impact on my writing in a positive way," says the director.

Love Birds is an urban romance, which deals with a modern couple leading a successful life post-marriage, and features Krishna as a software engineer, and Milana Nagaraj, as a fashion designer. Samyukta Hornad plays a lawyer who is the catalyst in this film. "Every love story should have an undercurrent theme to it. Marriage can be successful only if the minds of the husband and wife are one. It is something beyond just attraction. I felt it is a topic that should be discussed in society. The initial phase of marriage might seem all rosy, but there is a possibility of love fading as time passes if efforts are not taken. It is a fact for every couple, and I have put this across in an entertaining, and lighter way," he says.

Interestingly, Shekar is influenced by the Gotman method, developed by a couple, and he has used the key points from the method into the screenplay of Love Birds. Talking about bringing real-life couple Krishna and Milana, Shekar says that he felt a real-life couple could do justice to the plot. "I had watched their film Love Mocktail, and that's when I had decided that they would be the leads to my story," he adds.

Produced by Kaddipudi Chandru, the film also features Rangayana Raghu, Sadhu Kokila, Veena Sundar, and noted YouTuber Gaurav Shetty in pivotal roles. Love Birds has Arjun Janya, and Shakti Shekar handling the music and cinematography, respectively

HONDISI BAREYIRI
Director: Ramenahalli Jagannath
Cast: Praveen Tej, Naveen Shankar, Shri, Aishani Shetty, and Anirudh Acharya

RATING 3/5

DAYS spent in college are some of the memorable moments in an individual's life. Hondisi Bareyeri chronicles this bracket of time and also goes ahead in narrating the story of college youths after they turn into mature individuals. Although the subject has been tried and tested, debutant director Ramenahalli Jagannath narrates a story of friends with both resilience and emotional vulnerability. He successfully weaves the mixed emotions into a tale that is at times real and applaudable.

The story revolves around a bunch of students at an engineering college in Davangere. The entire first half explores various elements of college life – new friends, roommates, love, quarrels, and ragging. The bunch in focus includes Kumar (a)Kummi (Shri), Ranjith (Naveen Shankar), Jagan (Praveen Tej), Tiger Soma (Anirudh Acharya), and Saniha (Aishani Shetty), each one representing unique traits. The second half is where things get serious and trace their lives after college. The director ends the movie with the message to live life as it comes and accept it wholeheartedly but leaves us with a disturbing climax.

'Gultoo fame actor Naveen Shankar, who plays the role of a loner gets into the character well and is a highlight of the film. Praveen Tej also has an interesting character to play, and he has handled it smartly.

Shri, Aishani Shetty, Archana Jois, Hanumanthe Gowda Archana Kottige, Samyukta Hornad, Bhavana Rao, Sudha Narasimha Raju, Dharmendra Aras, Avinash Shathmarshan, have given life to their respective characters. Anirudh Acharya keeps the light-heartedness alive throughout the film, and his comic timing is good.

Ramenahalli has managed to blend the various elements of college life smartly, all the while making it relatable. Even though the film has an ensemble cast, the presence of every actor is important and adds value to the story. Joining the director in creating this beautiful film are Prashanth Rajappa and Masti, who have penned memorable lines.

With eight songs, and lyrics to six songs penned by the director, the film also becomes a musical for Jose Costa's compositions. The songs individually add value to the story. The background score rightly sets the mood, and certain moments are beautifully captured by cinematographer Shanthi Sagar.

Overall, Hondisi Bareyiri kindles nostalgic moments and makes for a feel-good film that can be enjoyed with friends and family.

FUN AND FLAMBOYANCE WITH A SIDE-ORDER OF DEJA VU

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

FARZI
Created by: Raj and DK
Cast: Shahid Kapoor, Vijay Sethupathi, Raashi Khanna, Zakir Hussain
Streaming On: Prime Video

RATING 3/5

THERE'S something endearing about Shahid Kapoor indulging himself in a long con. We saw it first in Badmaash Company, where he turned up the charm to con his way through his problems. Since then, through films like Kaminey, Udta Punjab, Kabir Singh, and Jersey, Shahid has proved his credentials as being the go-to man to represent the circle of life. You get aspirations, ambition, anguish, and overwhelming angst. In Raj and DK's latest Prime Video series, Farzi, we see him embodying the struggler Sunny, who finds a way to monetise his skill of being a master forger of art. We see him deliver a gamut of emotions as he hits the highs and lows expected out of a film about a con artist.

Vijay Sethupathi's Michael Devanayagam is the perfect foil to Shahid's Sunny. In fact, the writers of Farzi do a wonderful job of mirroring the lives of Michael and Sunny. It is a bit disappointing that what could have been a nice hat-tip to Steven Spielberg's Catch Me If You Can isn't explored enough in Farzi. It would have been fun to see the sentimental and enterprising world of Sunny colliding with the emotional yet sobering world of Michael.

While the two worlds are fascinating, for sure, there is an overwhelming sense of deja vu. We have seen Michael and his family life going through the same problems that Mr Srikant Tiwari and Suchi faced in Raj and DK's very own The Family Man series. While there is no doubt that the writers saw this too, and probably used the same beats to reflect the monotony in the lives of these unsung heroes of modern-day India. But, Tiwari's life is too recent in our memory that Micheal's problems don't really make us empathise with him.

We have no such problems with Sunny's descent into the world of counterfeiting as his father and grandfather (a terrific Amol Palekar) issues are well-explored in Farzi. His friendship with Bhuvan Arora's Firoz is heartwarming, and the makers give Sunny a lot of breathing space. As the hugely original Sunny unravels into becoming someone people around him don't recognise anymore, his 'farzi-ness' feels very real. There is a quaint melancholy amidst all the ruckus in Sunny's life. Points to the Farzi team for the way they've sketched Raashi Khanna's Megha. Of course, the romance between Sunny and Megha is a template move, but there are enough subversions that keep these scenes ticking. Raashi is such a lovely presence, and her scenes with both Shahid and Vijay Sethupathi are some of the more organic ones in the series.

The representation of the South is once again vibrant in Farzi with the presence of Vijay Sethupathi and Regina Cassandra who play a Tamil-telugu couple who are undergoing marital problems. There is a smattering of Tamil and Telugu that feels natural. Even when these characters, especially Vijay Sethupathi, speak in Hindi, it doesn't feel force-fit into the narrative. Such decisions should be applauded for normalising the multilingual diversity that our content could aspire to.

The ensemble is terrific in Farzi, and each actor does justice to the intricately written characters. Right from Shahid, Vijay and Raashi to Bhuvan, Amol, and Zakir Hussain (playing a hilarious minister), there are multiple layers to each of their characters. These layers are also found in the way the narrative unfolds. Shahid is immersive as Sunny, and it is fun to see him enjoy his role. The same can be said of Vijay Sethupathi, who in his demeanour has a lot of Mohanlal from Company. The matter-of-fact dialogue delivery and his cool composure, and the stoicness of his performance are a delight to watch. For people who know of him, it would feel like he is having a ball, and for those who don't, it is a good start to the calibre of Vijay Sethupathi. We see dualities of parenting, ambition, bureaucracy, and the greyness between right and wrong being explored through the two men.

Although the entire counterfeit business is showcased with a rather flimsy beginning, we are soon engrossed about the world thanks to the flamboyant performance of an ever-reliable Kay Kay Menon.

Overall, Farzi feels like a very wholesome first season setting up the right kind of vibes for the second season.

An exuberant culmination of everything Spielberg stands for

POULOMI DAS

THE FABELMANS
Director: Steven Spielberg
Cast: Michelle Williams, Paul Dano, Seth Rogen, Gabriel LaBelle, Judd Hirsch

RATING 4/5

FEW can claim to be the most commercially successful filmmaker of all time. Fewer still can continue to be a relevant storyteller after over five decades in Hollywood. At 76, Steven Spielberg is both these things — a perceptive artist whose craft remains bolstered by the textures of his personal identity, grief, and memory. In Spielberg's world, cinema leads to both escapism and exorcism. It feels poetic then that in The Fabelmans, Spielberg — a consistently precise and personal filmmaker — bares himself on camera, lovingly inviting the audience to witness the perils and pleasures of being an artist no longer scared to look at the viewfinder of his own life.

Spanning 20 years, the film, which marks the storyteller's 36th feature and is nominated for seven Oscars, sees Spielberg revive his childhood memories to craft a honey-tinged paean to the euphoria of falling in love with movies as well as a graceful acknowledgement of parental failures. Both these tracks brim with sight and hindsight. To call the film an "autobiography" or even a "memoir" then feels considerably insufficient simply because Spielberg isn't just pouring himself into The Fabelmans as he does in every other film he helms. Rather, this is a film where Spielberg confronts himself — framing and reframing the memory of himself as a heartbroken member of a fractured family to conceive a richly-detailed, tender snapshot of a wide-eyed kid who found his calling as his family was falling apart.

Written by Spielberg and his long-term collaborator Tony Kushner, The Fabelmans opens at the movies. The year is 1952 and a young Sammy Fableman (played first by Mateo Zoryon Francis-DeFord and then by Gabriel LaBelle), the Spielberg stand-in, has just watched his first film at a theatre — Cecil B. Demille's The Greatest Show on Earth. Over the years, Spielberg has widely spoken about this exact moment as a formative childhood memory, articulating the profound impact that the eye-popping train sequence had on him. In The Fabelmans, the filmmaker immerses us into the moment by letting us exactly measure its reverberations. We see Sammy ask his parents for a new train set and proceed to recreate the sequence in his own home, ramming it against one of his toy cars. When his pianist mother Mitzi (a sensational Michelle Williams) tells him that he can immortalize the moment by capturing it with a hand-held camera, Sammy learns about the powers of the medium to the stage and conceal reality. In that, this opening sequence is a clever bit of foreshadowing, considering it outlines the filmmaker's intentions of implicating the medium of film itself.

Despite The Fabelmans' dreamlike quality, there's something singularly bittersweet about how Spielberg approaches his past — as if simultaneously honouring his upbringing and mourning it. It's most evident in how the filmmaker sees the fissures in the relationship between his parents (Paul Dano plays the father) and the romantic feelings that his mother develops for his father's best friend (Seth Rogen in an ingenious bit of casting). Mitzi, alternating between being distraught and exuberant, is arguably The Fabelmans' most rewarding character and Williams renders her in all her complexity. Much of the film's melancholy stems from the sadness that Spielberg locates inside his mother, articulating the kind of deep loneliness that can arise in a stable, devoted marriage. In revealing the pangs of longing his mother tried hard to withhold, Spielberg affords Mitzi a sense of dignity and agency, as if releasing her from the trappings of caregiving. It's the film's confessional nature, so emotionally raw in its startling honesty and wisdom, that rankles the most. It helps that this tone is delicately caressed by Janusz Kaminski's glowing lens, John Williams' gentle score and a knockout final scene.

The Fabelmans elegantly transforms into a record of the film itself. "Movies are the dreams that you never forget," Mitzi tells Sammy in the film at one point. Spielberg runs with that idea in The Fabelmans, ensuring that it transforms into a spectacle that doesn't forget the truth of living.
